High Point College

the students . . .

the faculty . . .

the old . . .

the new . . .

the crowded . . .

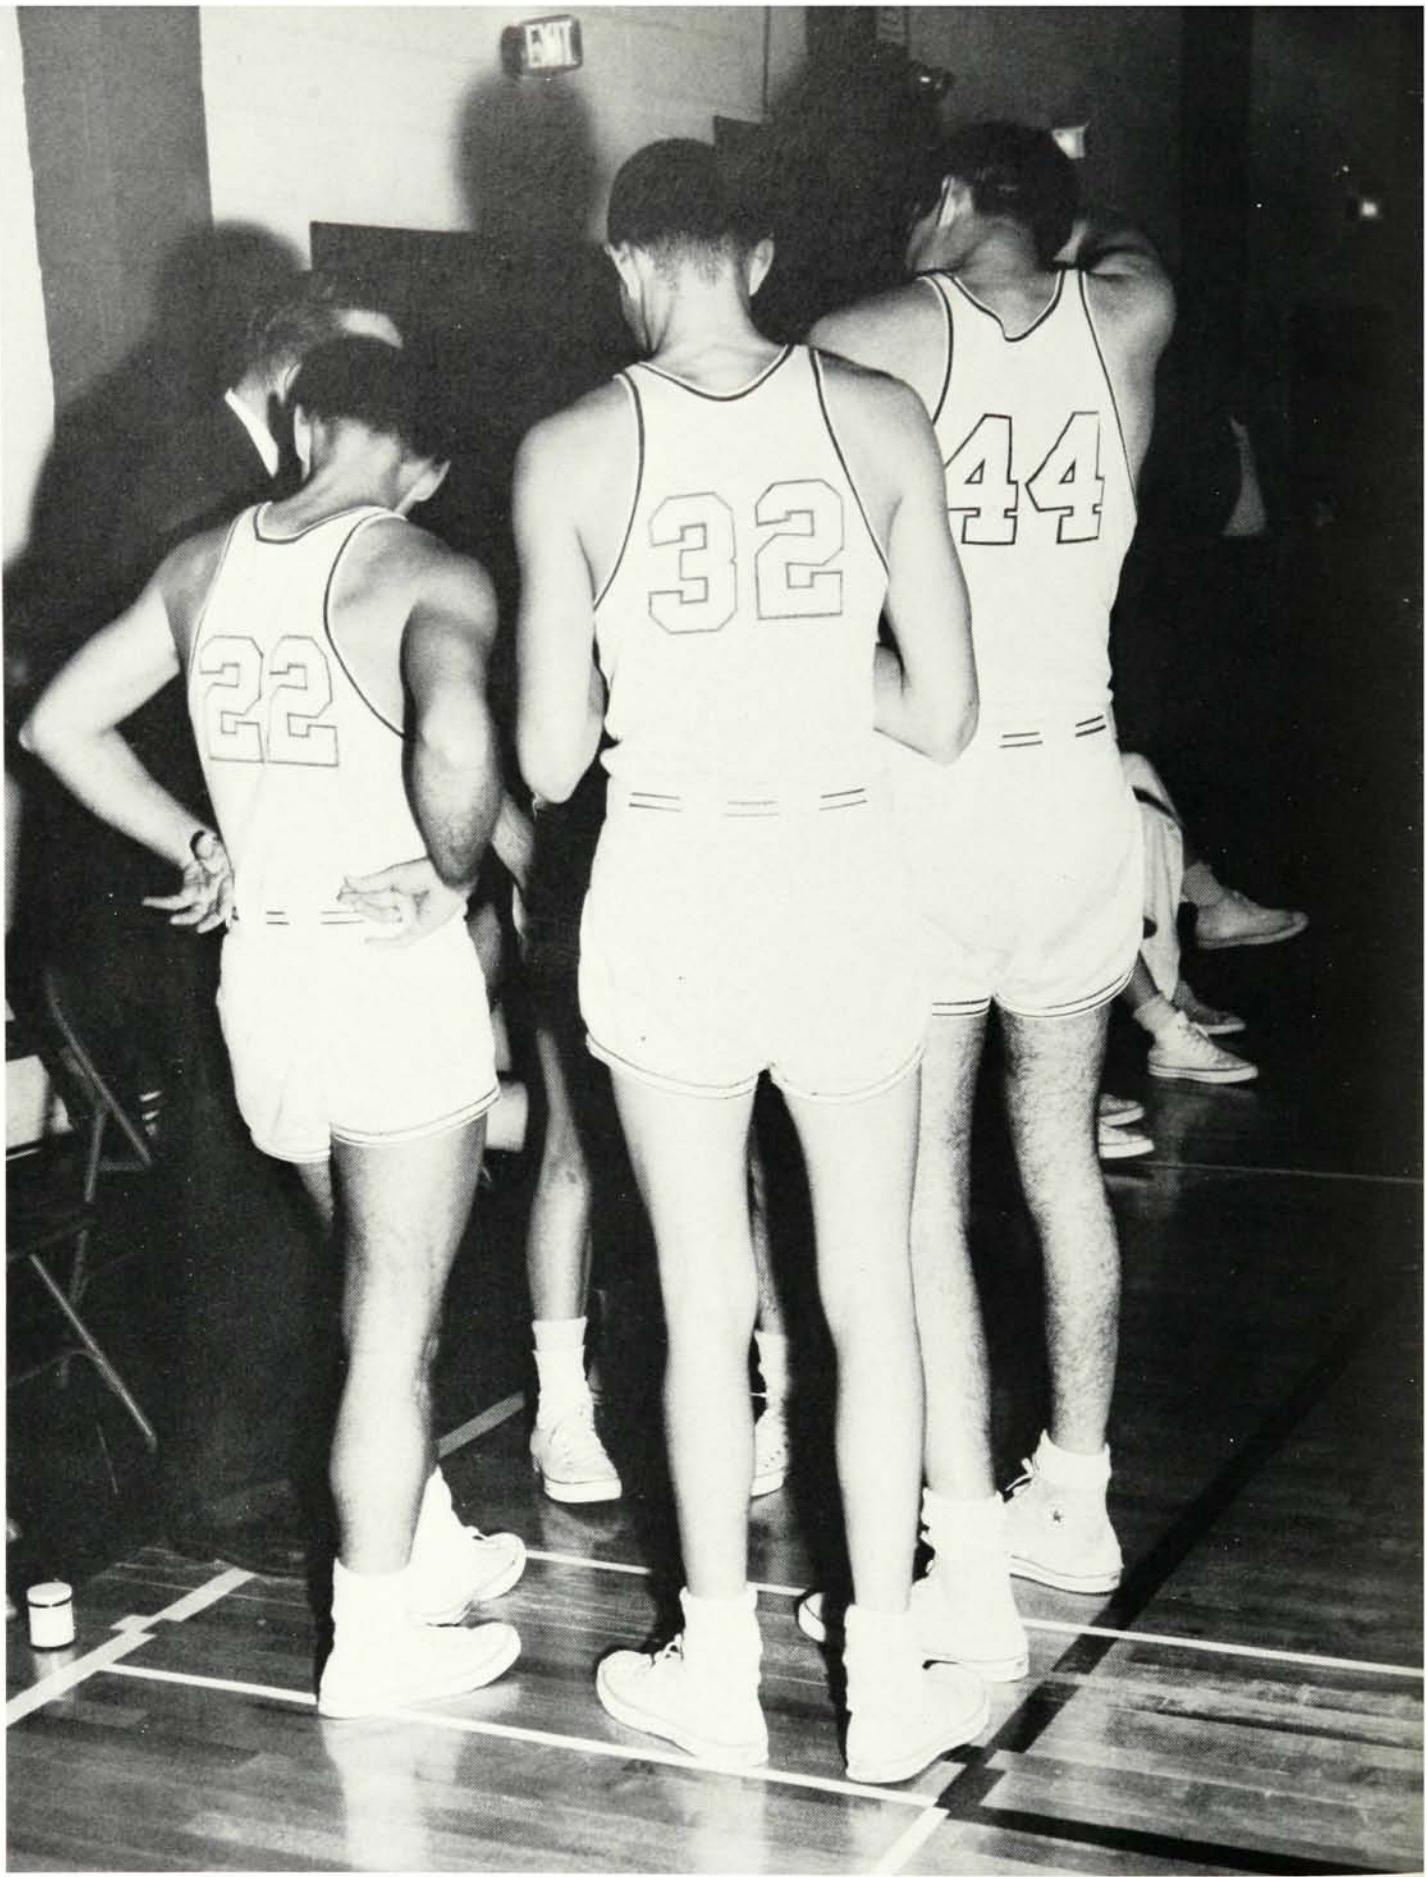

the lonely . . .

the scholastic . . .

the social . . .

the athletic . . .

the spiritual . . .

He spoke to us and he fired us with his enthusiasm for learning; he held us with the drama of his lectures; he democratized us with his equal love of all mankind. His infectious friendliness and concern for his students made us love him.

He spoke to God and he lifted us to kneel at the very throne of the Almighty.

His class periods compounded, like all class periods, of lectures, quizzes,
assignments,
recitation,
exams,
were at the same time lessons in tolerance, courage,
stability,
purity,
faith in God.

We found in him exemplification of his own definition of living religion—inside with the pure heart—outside with the helping hand.

To him, Dr. C. E. Rozelle, with gratitude and affection we dedicate our 1958 Zenith.

and our friend . . .

Dr. C. E. Rozzelle

MISS E. VERA IDOL

To Miss E. Vera Idol, Dr. George Hobart, and Mrs. Alice White, we offer this tribute in commemoration of their years of service to the college, their sympathetic interest in its students, and dedicated loyalty to the ideals and purposes of their profession.

Administration

Our President

DR. DENNIS H. COOKE

Since Dr. Cooke came to High Point in 1949, the college has experienced phenomenal growth and development. Increasing enrollment, higher academic standards, the creation of new departments, new academic offerings, and new buildings and facilities are a partial witness to the progress the college has made under his leadership. He has brought to his task at High Point College not only his wide experience as an educator, administrator, and author, but also his interest, his constant endeavors for its welfare, and his friendly concern for its students.

DEAN CONRAD

The general supervision of college activities is the responsibility of Dean Conrad, whose duties include teaching, working with the faculty in planning the academic program, supervising the academic work of the students, conferring with them about grades, credit, and courses, and acting as director of the Summer School. The weight of these responsibilities does not deter him from offering to the students his guidance, friendship, and sympathetic help with their academic problems.

Our Deans

DEAN ALLRED

Dean Allred works directly with the students, counseling them on their personal problems, adjusting student-faculty relationships, and holding the responsibility for their citizenship. His varied duties include administration and regulation of class attendance, coordination of student activities, direction of the health service, direction of freshman orientation, chairmanship of the parking committee, and teaching. His genial humor and personal interest in them endears him to the students.

Heading Our

The faculty members instruct, counsel, guide, inspire—finding it, as William Lyon Phelps has said, not so much their task to impart knowledge as to create enthusiasm. To the heads of the departments fall the tasks of conferring with the students majoring and minoring in their departments, planning the curriculum of their departments, seeing that the department upholds standards of accreditation, orienting new teachers, co-ordinating departmental projects, and making recommendations for the placement of graduating students.

These, the department heads, are the channel through which the instructors work with the administration. Their goal is to see that their students are adequately prepared to make a living and to make a life.

Our Campus

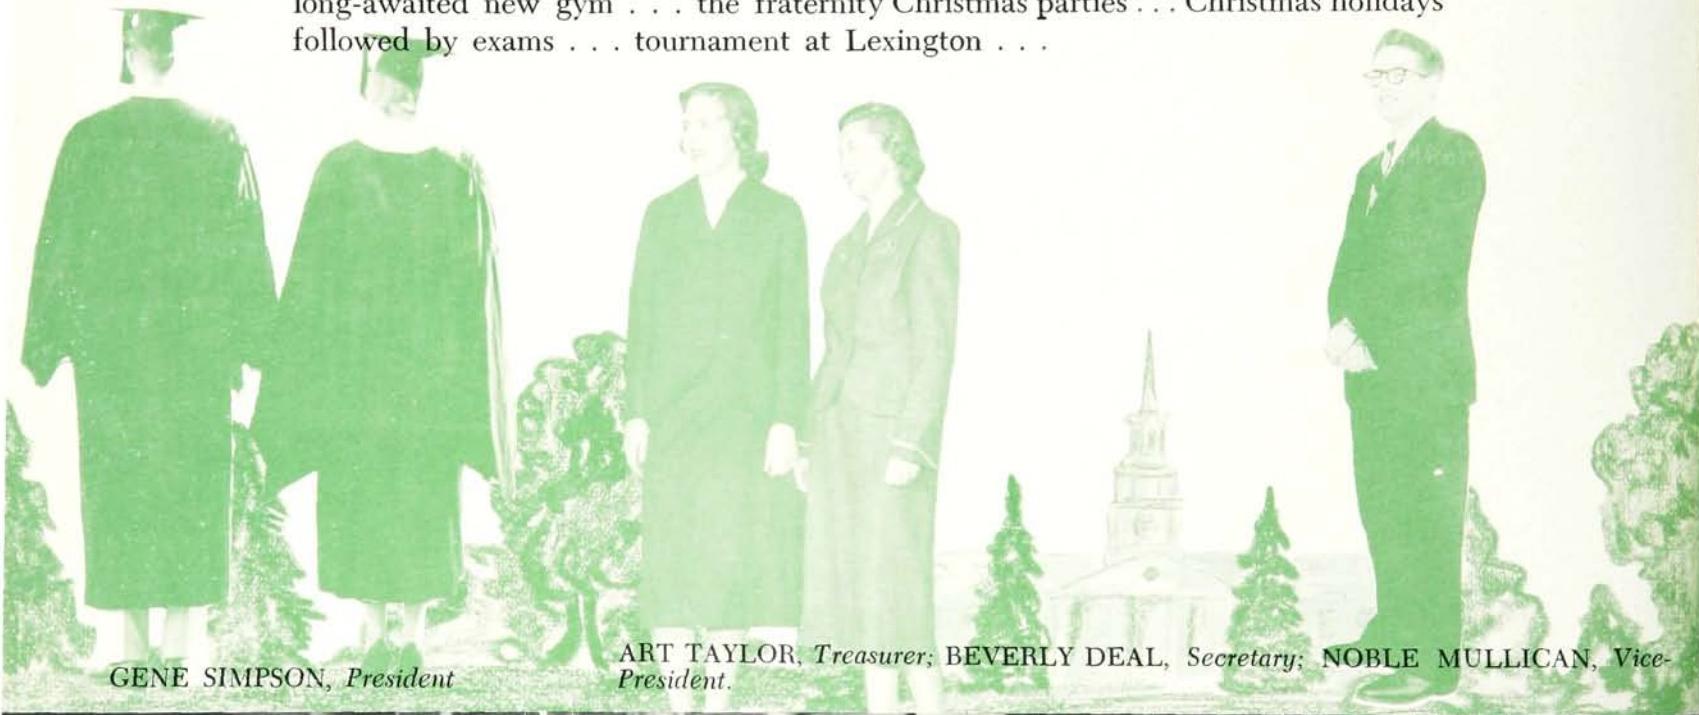

Seniors

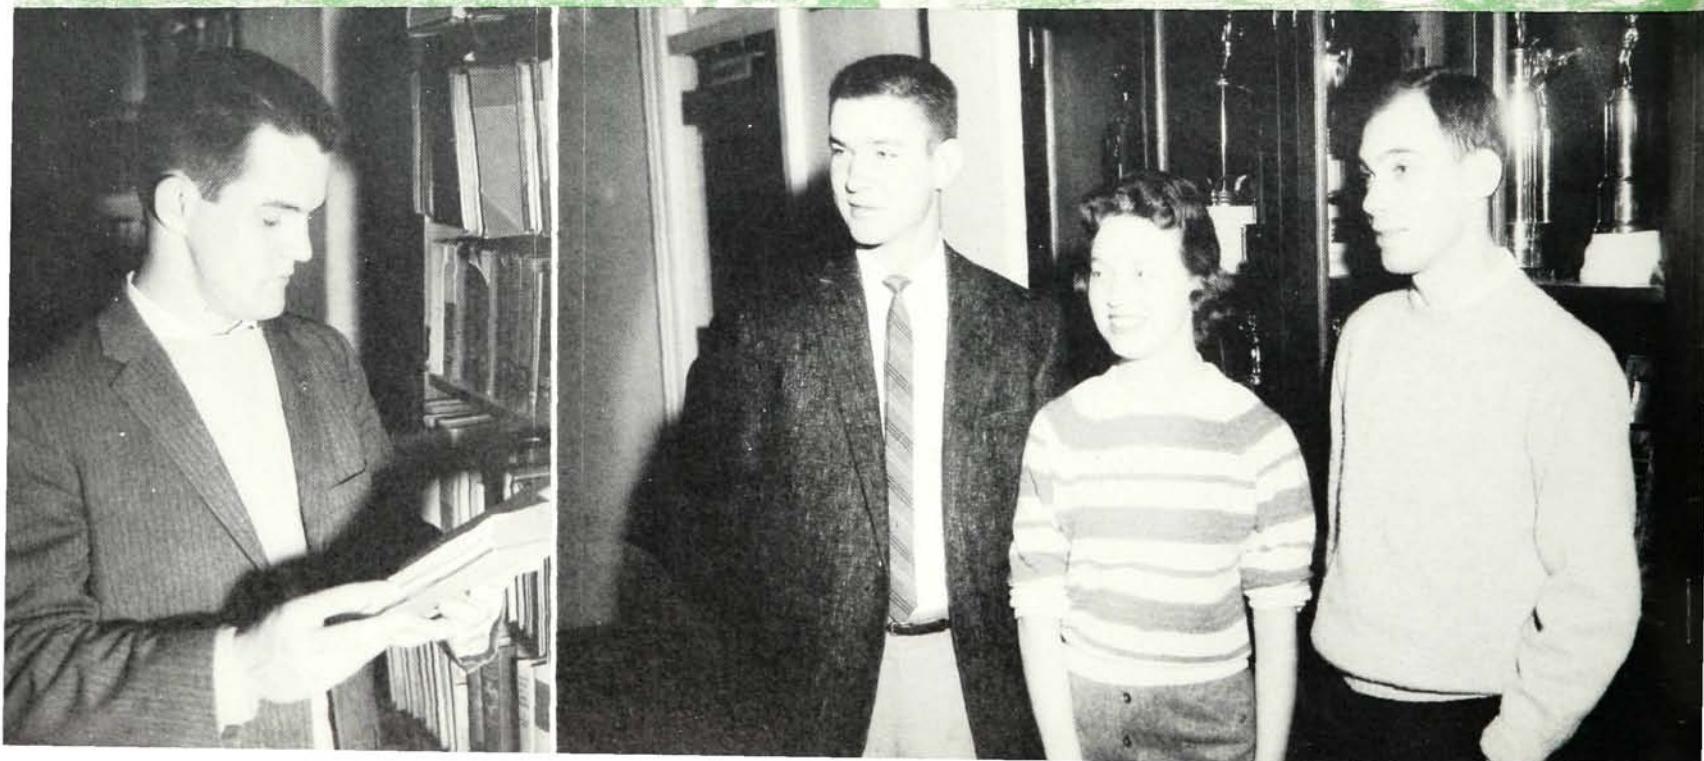

Sophisticated and sentimental . . . the big day at last, after four years . . . more for some, less for others . . . Now that we're at the end, there is a feeling of mixed emotions . . . joy for the diploma, sorrow for leaving the school and so many friends.

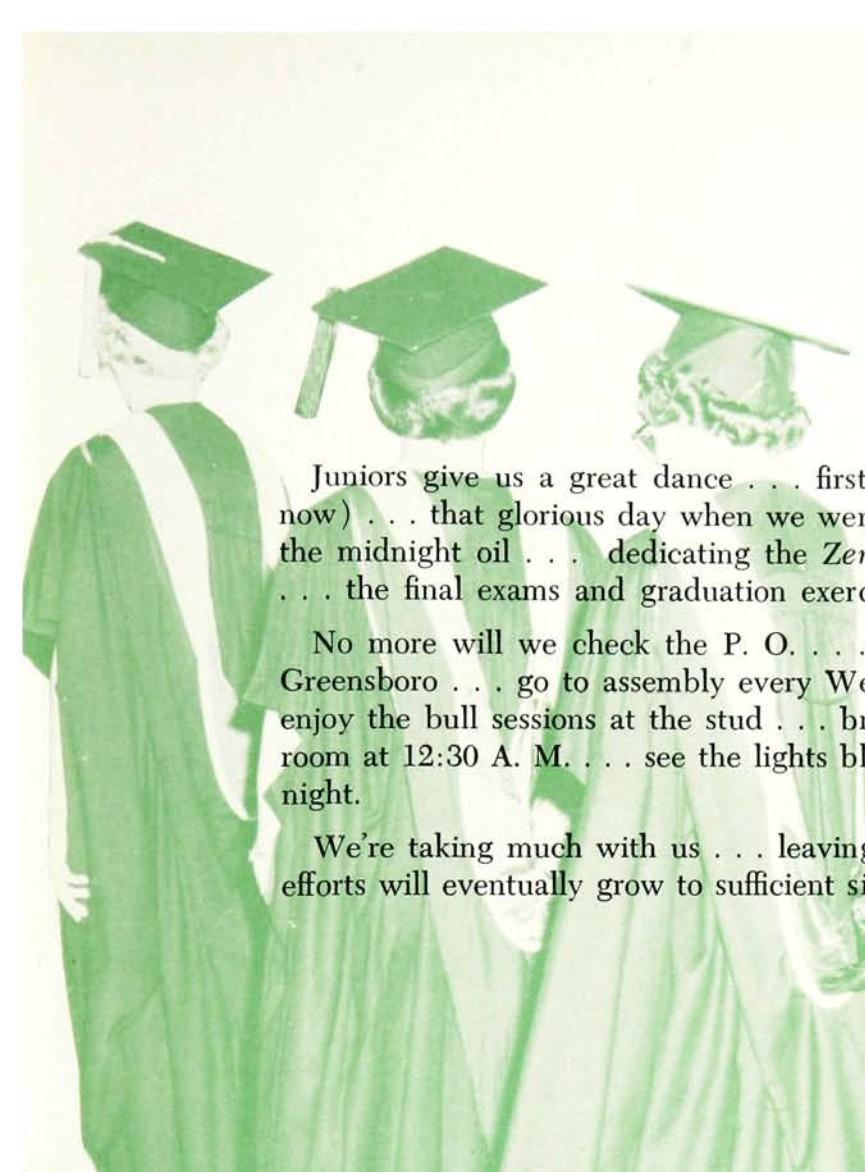

It's been a great last year . . . meeting the new Freshmen and transfers . . . a Rush Week of smiles and a day of silence filled with anxiety . . . the pledge tasks and trips . . . visits with the faculty . . . practice teaching (that means studying and lesson plans) . . . sixteen class and six assembly cuts . . . long afternoons in the lab . . . the interfrat football and basketball . . . the clown-faculty game in the long-awaited new gym . . . the fraternity Christmas parties . . . Christmas holidays followed by exams . . . tournament at Lexington . . .

GENE SIMPSON, President

ART TAYLOR, Treasurer; BEVERLY DEAL, Secretary; NOBLE MULLICAN, Vice-President.

Juniors give us a great dance . . . first row seats in assembly (no more sleeping now) . . . that glorious day when we were invested . . . Senior day . . . burning the midnight oil . . . dedicating the Zenith to one we love . . . caps and gowns . . . the final exams and graduation exercises.

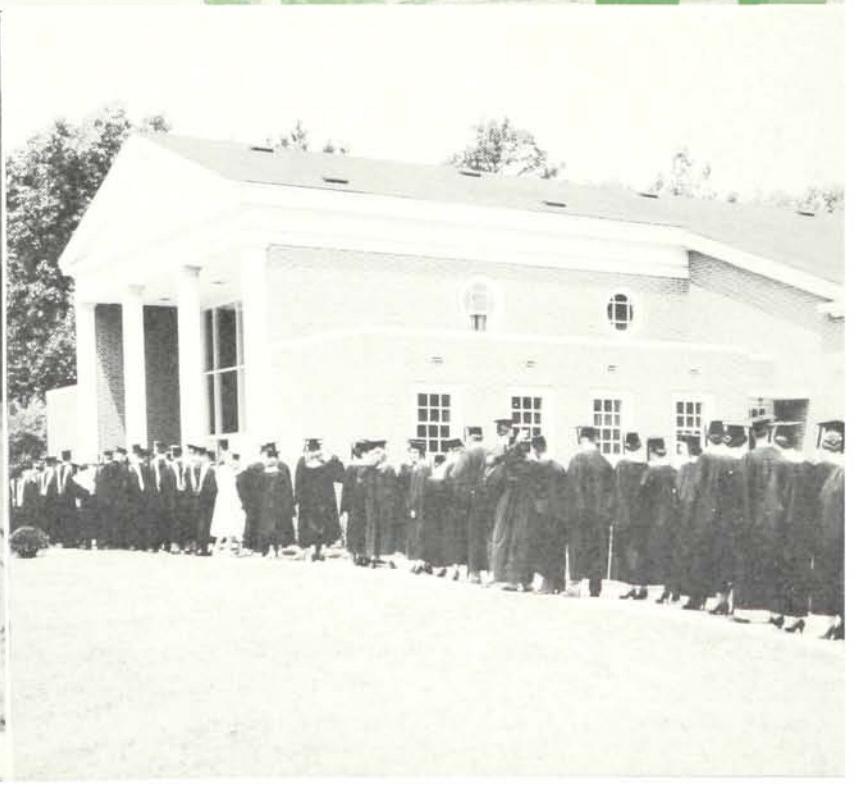

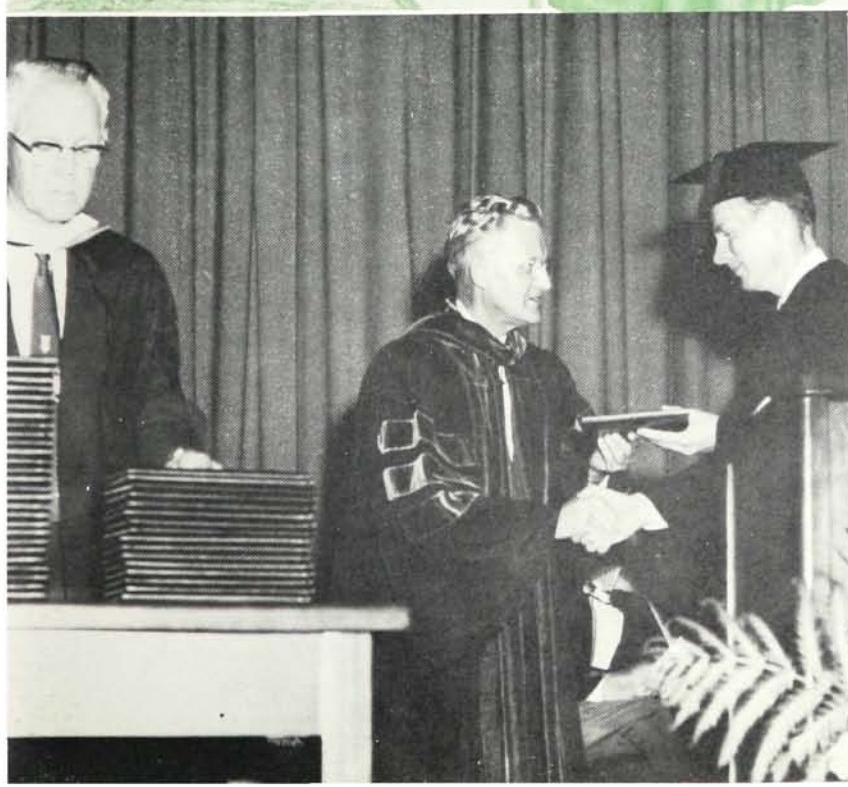

No more will we check the P. O. . . . browse around the bookstore . . . bum to Greensboro . . . go to assembly every Wednesday . . . 8:20 classes . . . or 2:30 . . . enjoy the bull sessions at the stud . . . bridge, anytime, anywhere . . . clean the room at 12:30 A. M. . . . see the lights blink . . . go to the board every Monday night.

We're taking much with us . . . leaving all too little in return . . . but hope our efforts will eventually grow to sufficient size to be a credit to the Seniors of 1958.

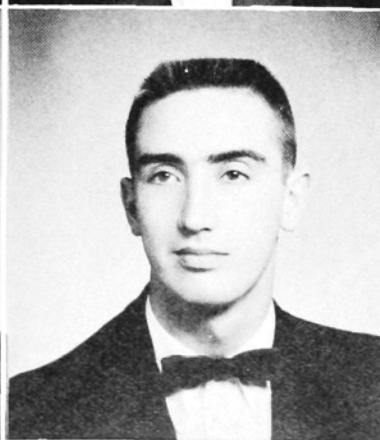

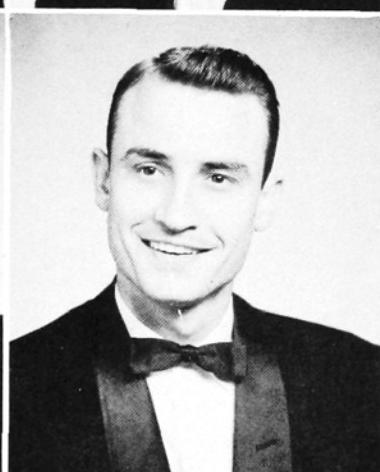

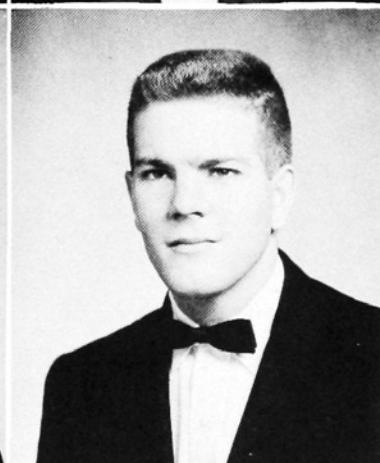

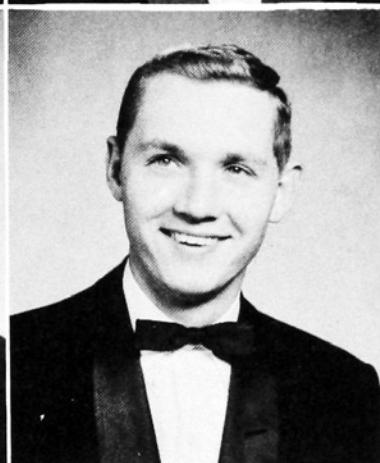

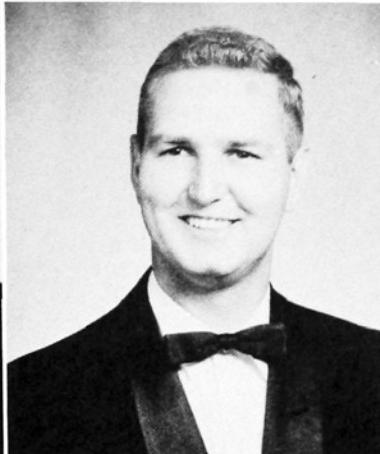

The Big Moment!

The long line moves slowly.

The requirements for election to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" are based on scholarship, character, leadership, and promise of future success. Nominations for membership are made by a committee composed of three members of the Executive Committee, the President of the Student Body, and the President of the Senior Class. Election is made by the Executive Committee of the faculty. They have selected for this honor young people who have made outstanding contributions to the college and who have exemplified the finest qualities of character and scholarship.

That Last Day

Some fit, huh?

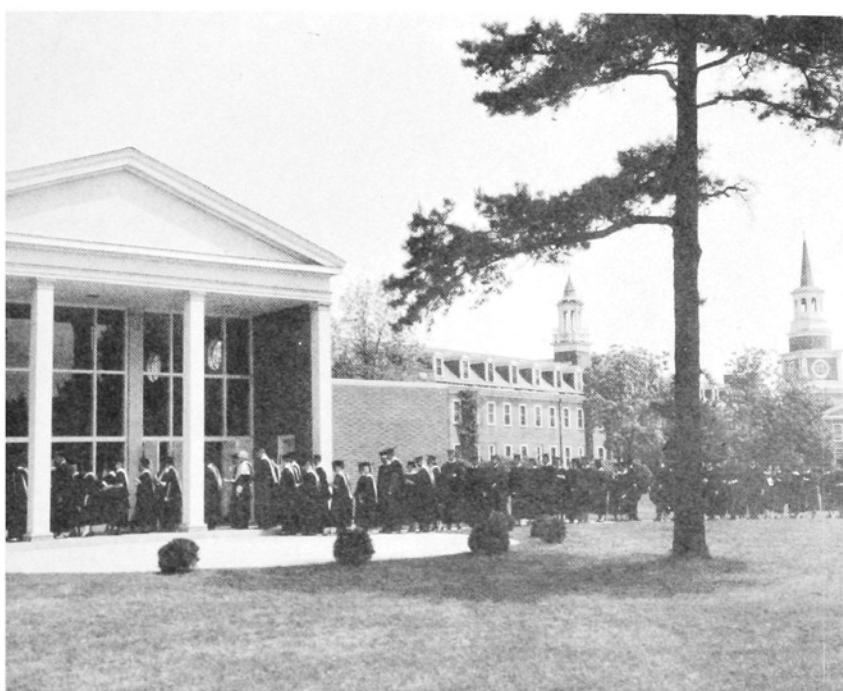

Just for size!

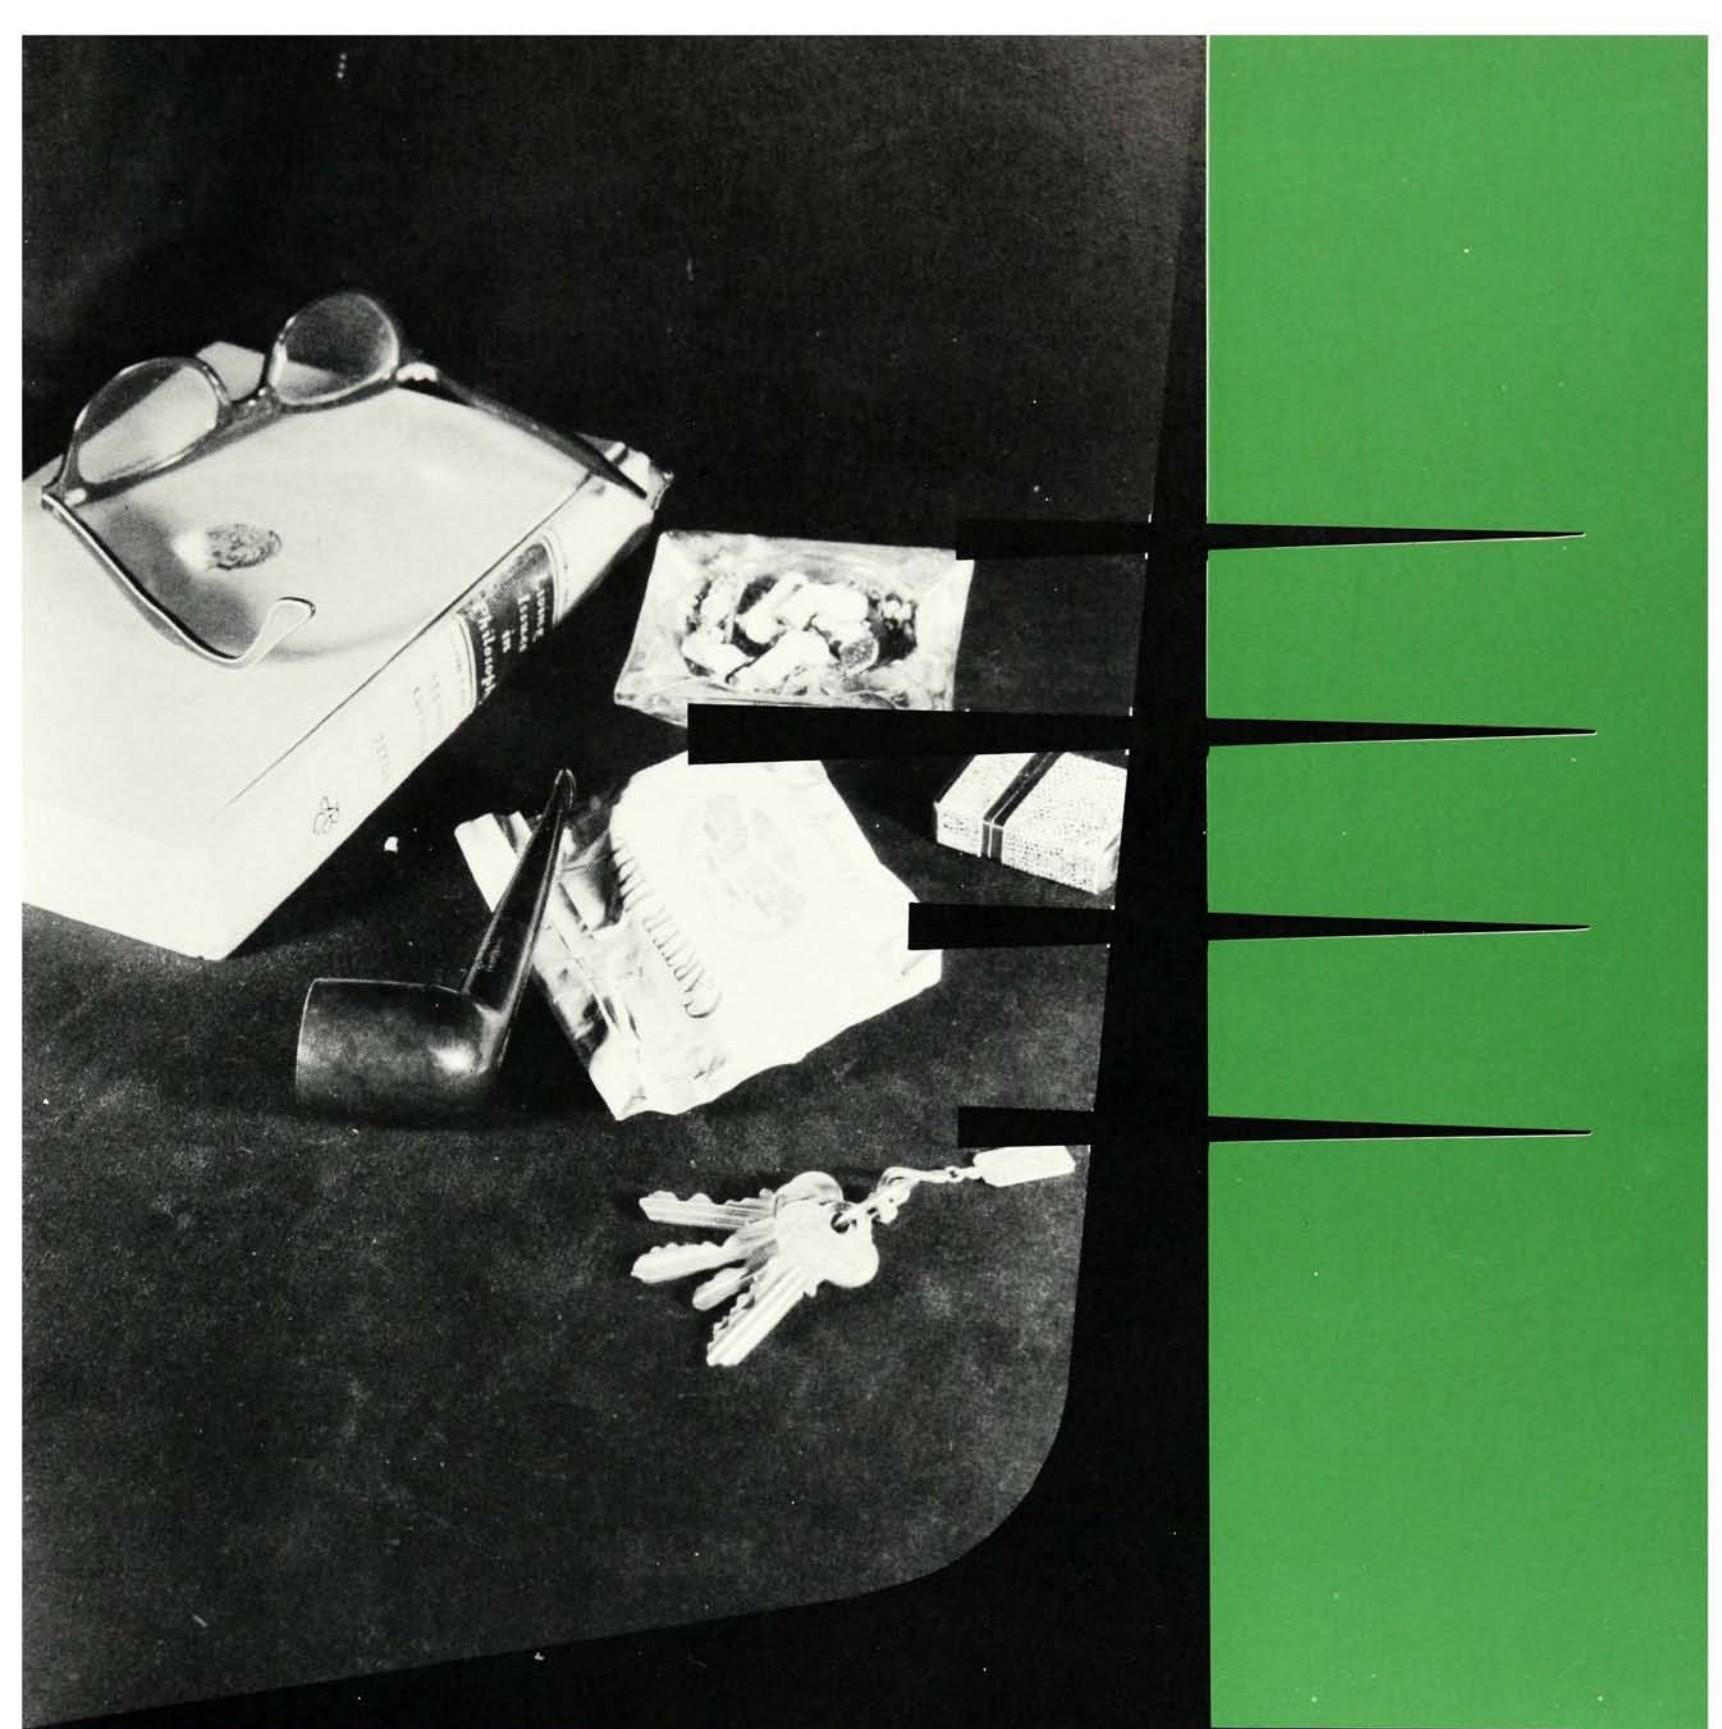

Reminiscing . . .

That last walk down . . .

Was it that bad, Shrimp?

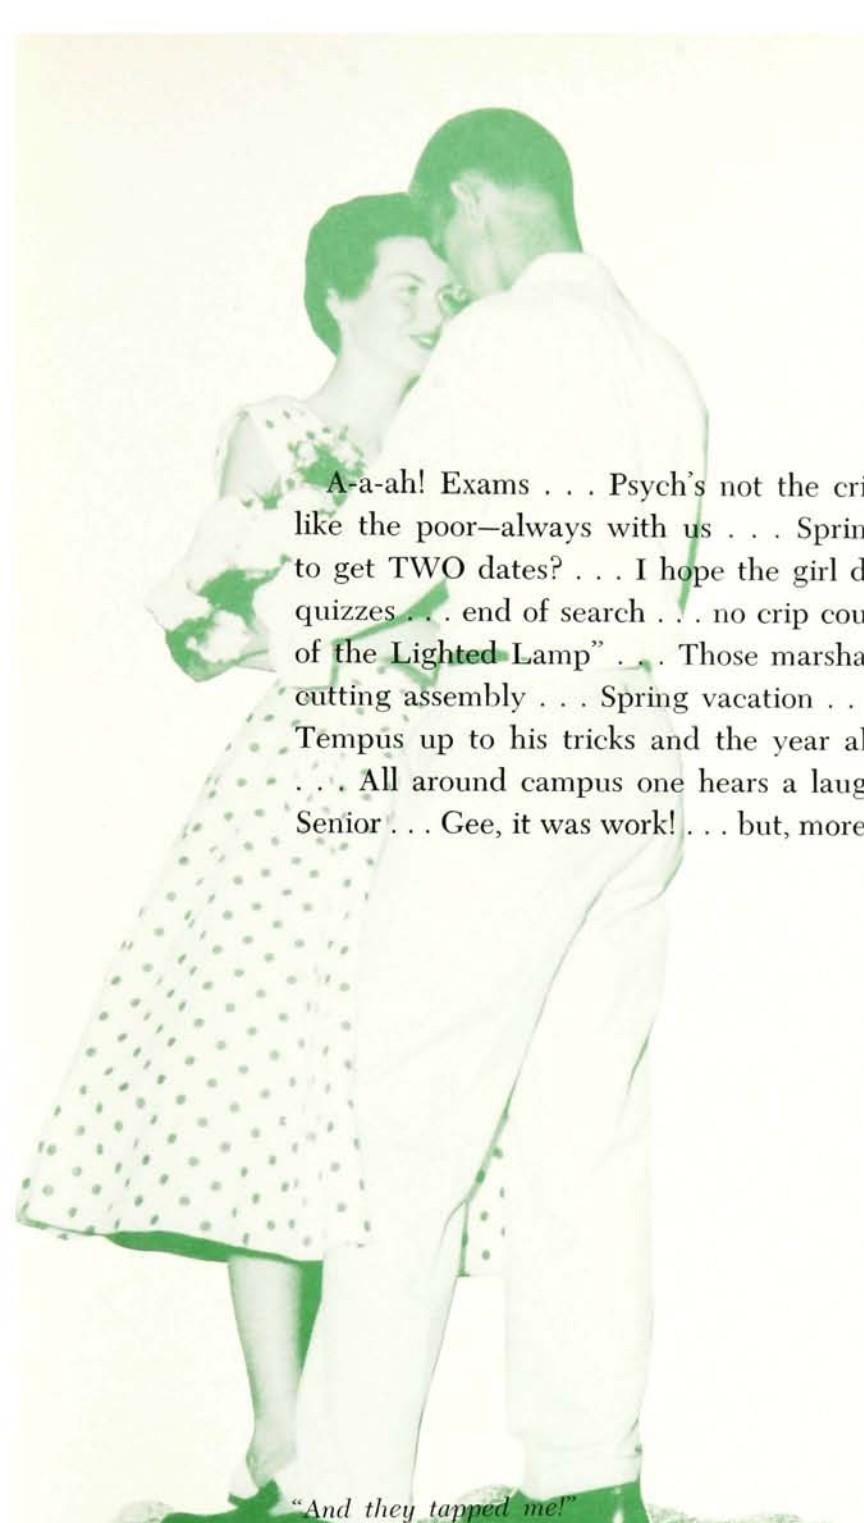

Juniors

At last . . . Could call this the Backslider's year . . . no English required . . . no French either . . . A junior is an ungrammatical backslider. Oh! that Corrective English . . . Campus prettier than ever this fall . . . increases in beauty as our allotted span in these halls of learning decreases . . . Heck, what courses to elect? one crip, at least, I pray . . . maybe Polit . . . crip means more time in bookstore for bridge . . . Quizzes . . . One day for Thanksgiving . . . hey, did you hear we get three days next year? . . . Frosh get fresher every year . . . Sophs, too . . . could show more respect for us UPPERCLASSMEN! . . . More quizzes . . . Nope, Polit's not the crip, maybe Psych . . . Christmas dance, who shall I ask, the girl in the girls' dorm or the one at W. C? . . . play practice until 12:00 each night . . . Ah! Christmas! And back again . . .

CHARLES DYSON, President

LINDA BRIGGS, Secretary and Treasurer; MAURY BEAUCHOT, Vice-President.

A-a-ah! Exams . . . Psych's not the crip either . . . maybe History . . . Parallel—like the poor—always with us . . . Spring frolics coming up . . . How'd I manage to get TWO dates? . . . I hope the girl down the hall will date one for me . . . More quizzes . . . end of search . . . no crip courses offered . . . Tapping for the "Order of the Lighted Lamp" . . . Those marshals ought not to turn in their classmates for cutting assembly . . . Spring vacation . . . thought it would never come . . . Old Tempus up to his tricks and the year almost gone . . . Did I see the peeping tom? . . . All around campus one hears a laugh, a shout, a terrific love for life . . . Junior-Senior . . . Gee, it was work! . . . but, moreover, Senior . . . big whe-e-e-el coming up.

"And they tapped me!"

A cold kiss for Janice!

Art Department

Professor Raiford M. Porter, Instructor in Art, surveys one of his classes in which a few students are drawing abstract designs in black and white taken from cardboard sculpture. The department, a recent addition to the college curriculum, affords opportunities to the students in the principles of fine and commercial art, art appreciation, art history, and art education. Here we find Peggy Sisk, Sonny Thornton, Norman Faircloth, and Franklin Hazzard discovering the enjoyment a student receives from creative expression.

Language Department

George Boose puts on a recording which coincides with the weekly lesson of listeners, Bill Simpson, Ray Wicker, and Ted Spencer. Students from the elementary and intermediate sections of French, Spanish, and German classes may take advantage of the language laboratory's facilities for twenty-five minute periods twice a week. These recordings are coordinated with the textbook in use by the students. Advanced students in the languages may make their own recordings for help in grammar and pronunciation. The laboratory is under the direction of Dr. Frances Muldrow, who is assisted by George Boose, J. L. Peterson, Ronald Wachs, Harold Wright, Bobby Owens, Buddy Lanier, and Wini Stuart.

Back to H. P. C., this time very much a Sophomore, famous with no prestige . . . No more beanies . . . What a stupid bunch of Freshmen. I know we couldn't have been that obnoxious . . . And classes! Who said your Freshman year was the hardest? . . . And then there's Chaucer . . . Rush-handshaking (this time on the giving end) . . . The more fortunate ones who made their 'C' averages sit proudly in chapter meetings . . . Back to the grind again, and first reports come out . . . Flunking one subject. Have to get some points in with that professor . . . Interfrat sports, the Bulldozer's "doed" it again! . . . Christmas; with its glamour, and for all we care, it comes on the eighteenth this year . . . That one present still bothers me! . . . Home! Amen.

FRED HANDY, President

CAROL AREY, Secretary; HAROLD WRIGHT, Treasurer; PAT RAY, Vice-President.

Back again and exams . . . Never a break . . . Everything came out pretty fair except for that one subject . . . Basketball! Head a bit higher, spirit a bit older, especially in the new gym! . . . Spring! "In the spring, a young man's fancy" . . . serenades, romantic and lovely! . . . Mid-semester grades . . . Still failing that Spanish. But I'll shoot him on exams . . . Two more days until the Frolics and next week-end is our spring banquet! . . . Finals! Wee hours, midnight oil, and home . . . I'm loafing this summer if I don't have to come to summer school! . . . Letter? From High Point College? Just what I expected, all O. K. but that one . . . Why didn't I ever go by that Prof's house?!!

Foreign Students Study at H. P. C.

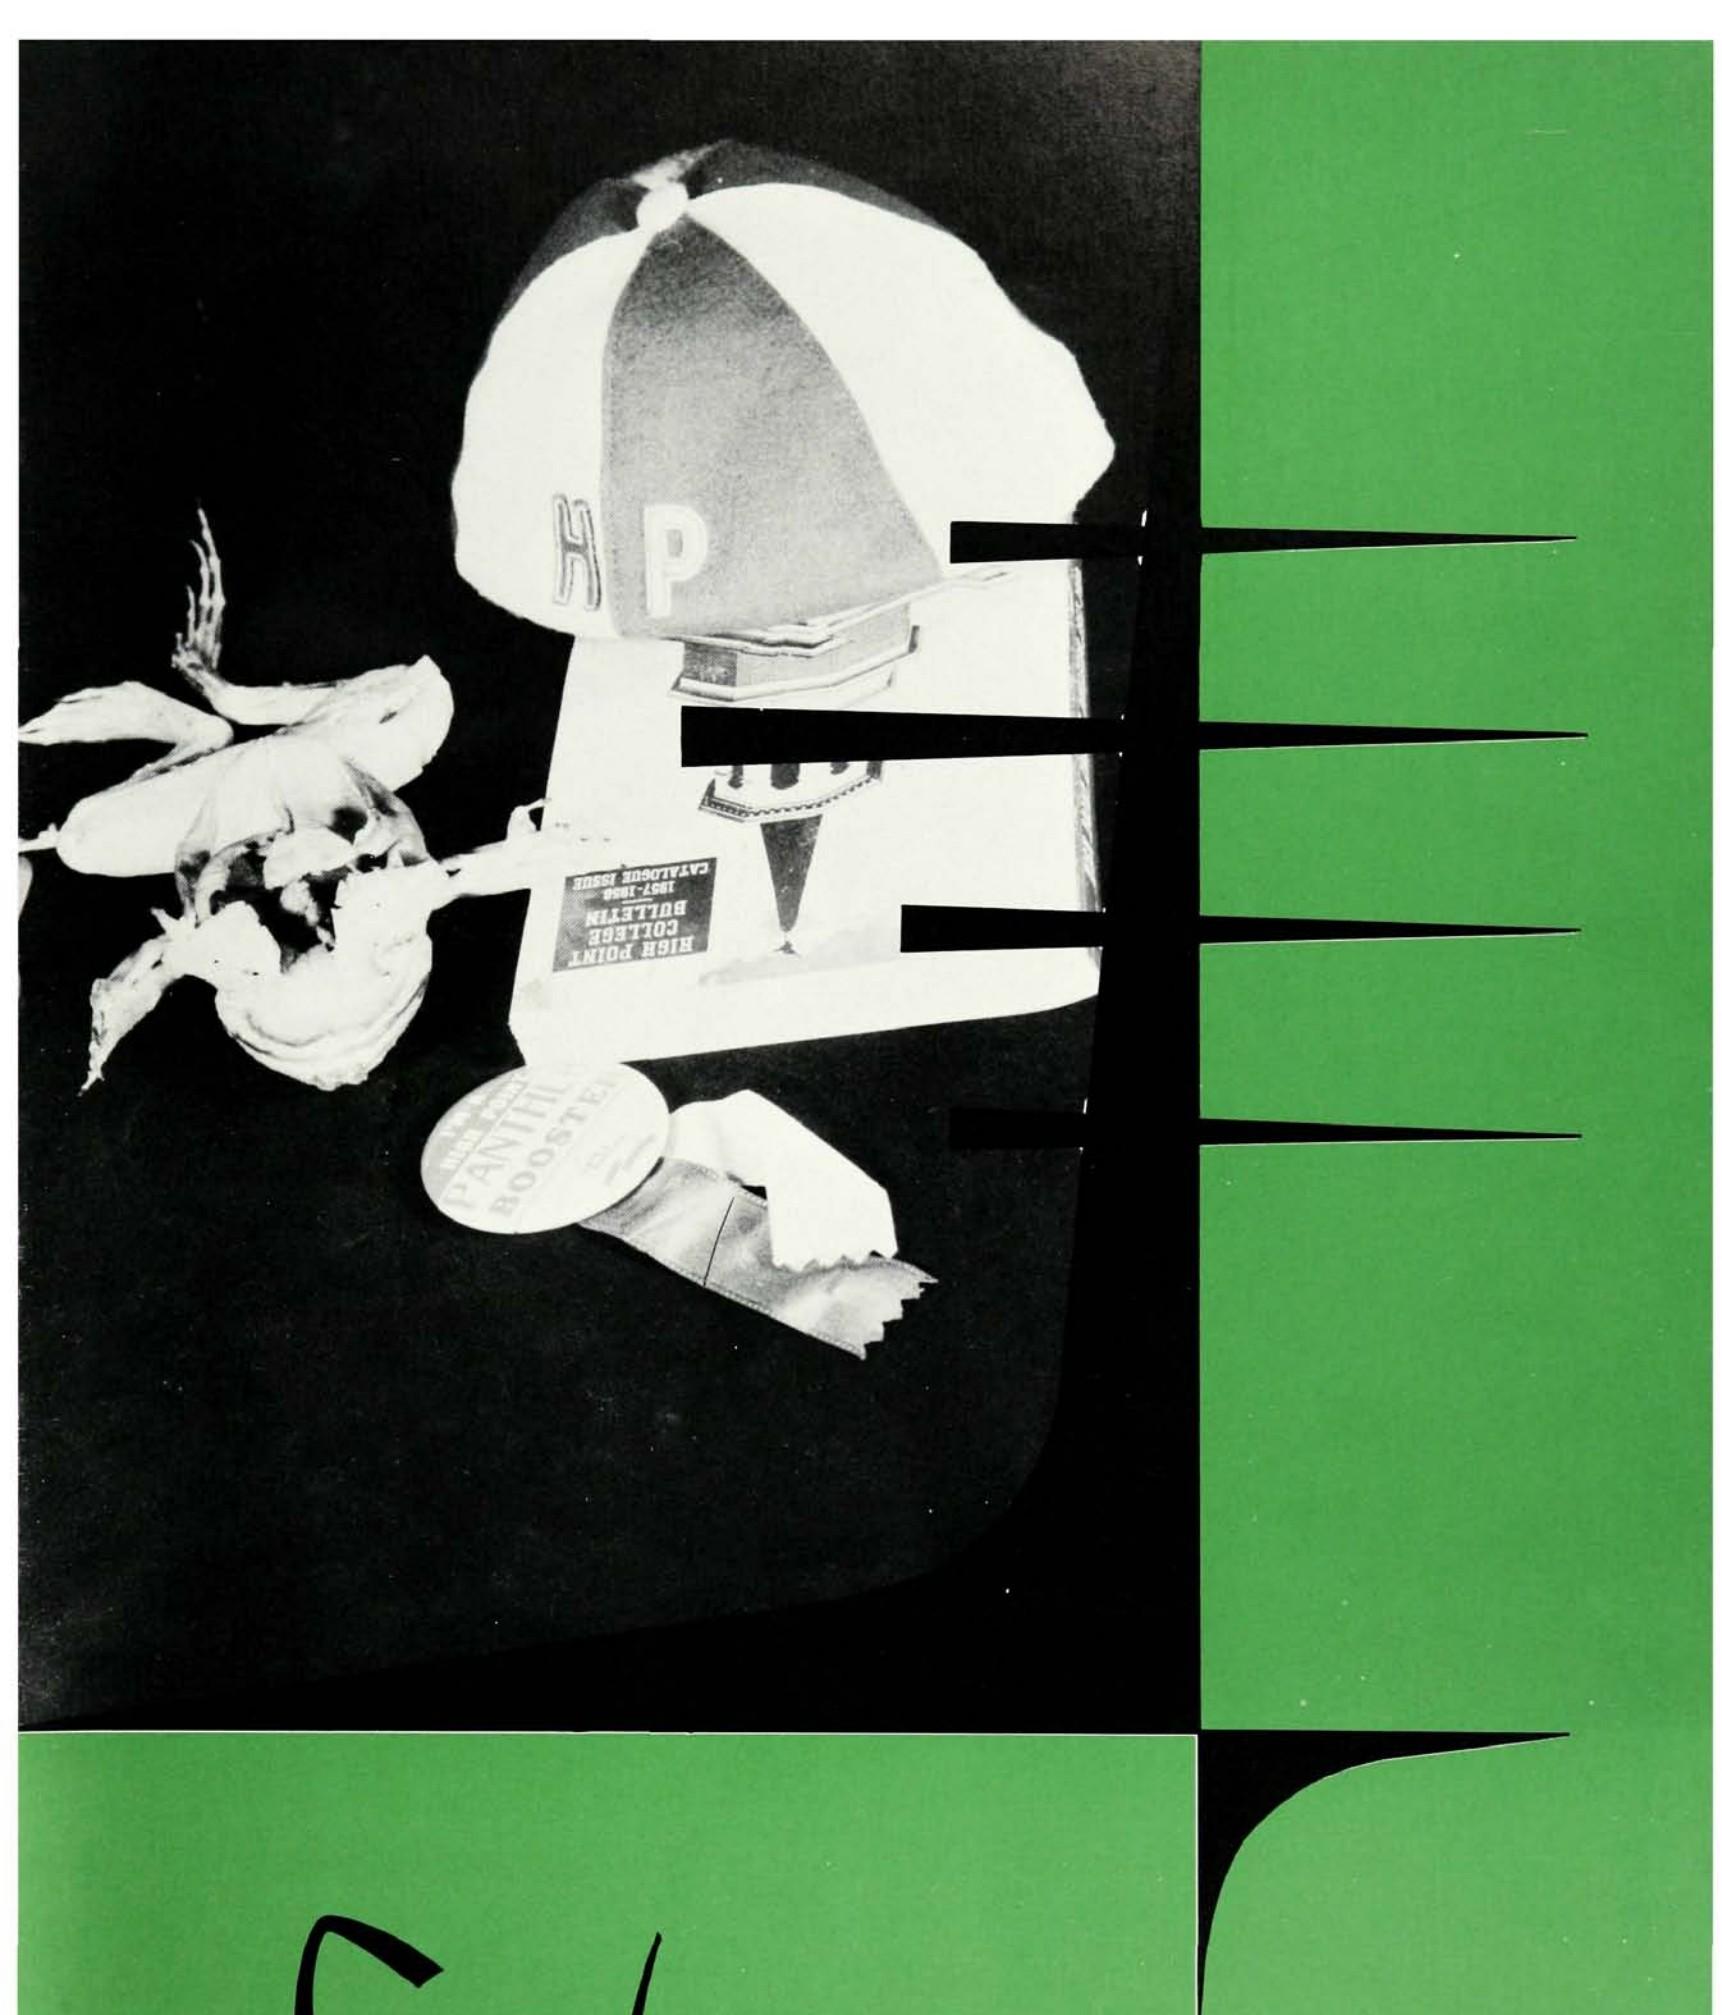

The foreign students have not only enriched their own lives through study at High Point College, but they have also made an invaluable contribution to the life of the campus as they taught both students and faculty lessons of understanding, friendliness, tolerance, and a new world viewpoint. They opened new horizons to the whole campus as they became an intrinsic part of its life.

Inger and Marianne enjoy dormitory life at High Point.

College! Gee, will they treat us rough? What's Orientation? Will I get a bid from a fraternity? I'm a little scared . . . Age 18, irrepressible youth—that's what they call us . . . Things aren't bad at all, but I did get a little tired after carrying all that luggage to third floor . . . I'm not treated too rough except for the time I was caught without my beanie. Yes, that purple and white thing perched on my head. It looks as if I might make a frat . . . parties, parties, parties . . . but I hear you can't be initiated without a 'C' average . . . Grades—all I do is study, but I can't seem to put down what the prof wants . . . Maybe I had better slip out and see one of my professors some Sunday night . . . Isn't it great that the upperclassmen let us take our beanies off a month before Thanksgiving? That one day for Thanksgiving certainly did help!

DALE BROWN, President

BUDDY LANIER, Treasurer; EUNICE YOUNG, Secretary; DARYL McGUIRE, Vice-President.

Christmas—wonder if my girl will come up? . . . Sure did enjoy the dance with her . . . Already talk of exams. This soon? I'll take my books home over the holidays and study . . . Those exams sure were hard, nothing like I expected. Should have studied over Christmas . . . Registration again! Glad I got that Biology lab changed from 2:30 . . . What's this about us having to cut up a frog? . . . Spring vacation this soon? . . . A big name band! I just hope that certain person gets around to calling me at 2-9128. Back to the grind . . . heavier books with smaller print . . . Feverish studying and cards from the dean . . . it won't be long until final exams and summer . . . Summer's bright interruption! Hope that new job I've lined up comes through . . . Oh, well, time will tell.

Buying that all important beannie.

Religious Activities

Student Christian Association

Dr. Hudgins, Dr. Locke, J. L. Peterson, Irma Scruggs, and Gary Cornell work on the final plans for the Student Christian Association for the year 1958.

To bring each student on the High Point College campus into a closer companionship with the eternal God—such is the purpose of the Student Christian Association. S. C. A. activities, pointed toward this end, are coordinated by the Student Christian Council, which is composed of three officers, faculty advisers, and two representatives from each religious organization on campus. The council plans the religious program of the entire year, seeking to stimulate Christian growth and development among all the students of the school.

J. L. PETERSON, JR.
President

Young heads bowed before the candle-lit altar in the reverent stillness of the chapel, young hands giving generously for the care of the school's foster children, young minds stimulated into thought, questioning, and a new and growing faith during Religion-in-Life week, young spirits filled with joy at a new perception of God developed from their worship experiences, young hearts growing in love for others and for God as they work, study, play, and pray together—in these things is found the spirit of Christ moving upon the High Point College campus.

The Student Christian Association, whose membership includes every student enrolled in High Point College, directs the worship program of the campus. Its activities include the inspirational devotions held each morning Monday through Saturday in Lindley Chapel, led by students and faculty members, Wednesday night prayer meetings, and Sunday Evening Vesper services. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, world renowned author, missionary, and evangelist conducted a Spiritual Life Mission at the college October 27 through November 1.

The spiritual highlight of the year was the Religion-in-Life Week conducted March 23-26. The theme, "Alone in the Crowd," was skillfully developed through a series of dramas, panel discussions, addresses by the Rev. R. W. Bradshaw, and other meaningful worship activities.

The special project of the Student Christian Association is the support of two orphaned Korean children, Kim Im Ie and Bak Tae Woung, who can claim the entire student body of High Point College for their foster parents.

The members of the council, under the direction of Dr. Locke, Dr. Hudgins, Miss Bowman, Dr. Wood, and Dr. Bartlett, have dedicated themselves to the fulfilling of the purpose of their organization: to unify and coordinate the activities of the various religious organizations on the campus, and to stimulate religious life so as to foster a more Christian attitude among students.

KIM IM IE

BAK TAE WOUNG

Kappa Chi presents their annual Christmas Story.

Ronnie Wacks, Elmer Hall, and Dr. Peterson talk with Dr. E. Stanley Jones.

Alpha Delta Theta

Leadership, friendship, and service—sisters in the service of God—these have been the guiding principles of Alpha Delta Theta. The girls base their theme on religion. The inspiration and guidance under the direction of Rev. & Mrs. Peterson made our retreat one of the greatest with plenty of plans coming out of it, too. The parties and socials were results of good planning and management. Weekly devotionals were conducted by the girls each Thursday night in the third-floor clubroom of Girls' Dorm.

The list of services and activities would fill an entire page . . . indeed it does even that. Everyone joins and benefits—not to forget the joint Alpha Delta Theta-Kappa Chi meeting and social together, and Alpha Delta Theta chorus and the Koimea groups.

So went a succession of meaningful activities, the year moved on. All sixty-five girls could never forget what Alpha Delta Theta has meant to them.

Seeking to stimulate better fellowship, build professional spirit, and deepen their devotional lives, a group of High Point College pre-ministerial students joined in forming a Ministerial Association. In 1951 this association affiliated with a National Ministerial Organization. Thus, Xi chapter of Kappa Chi had its beginning. Xi chapter is open to all male students who are planning to enter some phase of full-time Christian service. In Kappa Chi these men find "a medium of instruction, inspiration, and realization of true fraternity based on the high ideals of Jesus Christ. Members of Kappa Chi are not individuals standing alone for Christ. Instead they belong to a fellowship of students, all striving to become better servants of God." Every Kappa Chi member has his heart warmed by knowing that he and his fellow pre-ministerial students are "Brothers in Christ."

In addition to having weekly meetings, the Xi chapter of Kappa Chi engages in many other activities designed to serve High Point College and the surrounding community. These activities include a Christmas nativity scene, vesper programs, morning devotions, supply teaching and preaching, a Kappa Chi chorus, building an outdoor chapel, and visiting the Old Folk's Home. These activities give each brother an opportunity to practice the spirit of brotherhood through Christian Service.

Fellowship Teams

Fellowship Teams inaugurated their fifth year at High Point College by training eighty-seven students to serve churches throughout North Carolina and Virginia. Working, playing, and worshiping together in this fellowship of service, these students have found a new vitality of faith.

The teams are dedicated to the purpose of strengthening the youth programs in local churches, leading youth in more abundant Christian living, and enabling the students to gain experience in the youth work of the Church.

Listed below are the teams and their Chairmen: Ronald Wachs, Chairman—Alice Swetland, Dell Conrad, Jerry Brady, Carolyn Lowder. What is the purpose of the Methodist Student Fellowship? The answer to this question is found as a student discovers an intelligent faith amid confusion, as he finds recreation and fun that builds Christian character, as he is presented the opportunity to serve others. The purpose is found when questions are answered such as: What does God's will have to do with my life's work? Can the life and teachings of Jesus be meaningful to me? The M. S. F. seeks to answer these and other questions by . . .

1957-58 marked the second year on the High Point College campus for the Westminster Fellowship, the Presbyterian student organization. It was, therefore, devoted to building on the foundations which had been laid the previous year. Membership has nearly doubled, now including two dozen active members. Through service projects, participation in the religious program of the college, and other activities, Westminster has continued to demonstrate that it has a place on campus.

The officers who guided Westminster during its sophomore year have been Helen Rakestraw, president; Charles Dyson, vice-president; Betsy Singletary, secretary; David Pancoast, assistant secretary; Betty Baughn, treasurer; Liz Peterson, devotions chairman; and Otis Boroughs, Student Government Representative.

Westminster meets twice a month at the home of its sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Pancoast. Meetings feature inspiring and enlightening programs and discussions of topics of importance to Christian students. Programs are followed by periods of fellowship. Students of all denominations are welcome to attend the meetings and take part in the activities of the Fellowship.

Let's not forget The Academic Side

Ben Zambrana uses the "Recordak" microfilm viewer to read the New York Times.

The classroom—whether it be a lecture hall permeated with verbosity, a laboratory filled with would be M.D.'s, or the occasionally bright out-of-doors—is the center of High Point College's academic life. All other activities and departments of the school exist to the end that our classroom periods will be fifty minutes concentrated with wisdom and inspiration, though occasionally to the average student thinking of "that girl" they seem several hours of diluted boredom. All the laborious preparation of unending assignments on the students' part, and the preparation of lectures on the part of other parties concerned, is done with a purpose. It is intended to bring out the best in us on the day that really counts—the day we return to the classroom for the resume of all the class periods we've spent there shooting the bull, laughing at ante-bellum jokes, and on "off" days, discussing the subject matter of the course.

High Point College students believe in self government, democracy, and the principles of honor for which the Student Government Association stands. All students enrolled at High Point College are members of the SGA and have the right to discuss and vote on any bills that are presented to them.

This year the SGA, under the leadership of its efficient and popular President C. W. Faulkner, has sponsored various activities such as the freshmen orientation program, holding assembly programs, the election of the May Queen, the planning of the May Day Dance, the election of the Homecoming Queen, and sending delegates to the state-wide Student Legislature Assembly held in Raleigh. Many freshmen participated in the Freshmen Talent Show again this year, which is one of the SGA's most successful projects. Bob Butler, a day student from High Point, took top honors this year. The student body always looks forward in the spring to the dance and concert by a big-name band. This gala event is also sponsored by the SGA.

Student Legislature

SGA is composed of three branches—the executive, the legislative, and the judiciary. The Executive Council acts as a co-ordinating unit for the other branches, reviewing legislation, bringing cases to the Judiciary Council, and other duties.

The Student Legislature acts on bills, resolutions, and recommendations brought up by the delegates on matters pertaining to students and campus life in general. The body, which meets regularly every two weeks, is composed of representatives from the four classes and from active campus organizations.

The Executive Council, along with all the students, as members of the SGA, have strived this year to uphold, to strengthen, and to improve the principles of the Student Government Association of High Point College.

AUBREY FLYNT
Chief Justice

The Judiciary Council tries cases of infractions of rules by students and will act as an appellate court for decisions of dormitory council, and for the settlement of other cases. Its duty is to serve any member of the student body who feels he has been treated unfairly. It acts as a mediator between the student body and the administration.

The Judiciary Council is composed of ten members, two from each dorm, one from each class, and two from the day-student council. From these ten the members select one person to act as Chief Justice.

By car, bus, and on foot each day hundreds of day students pour into HPC for classes. They come from the city and surrounding areas even as far away as Statesville and Madison. Many of the day-hoppers are active in campus organizations, but others merely come to class and then leave for home or work as soon as classes are over.

The day student organization, the largest on campus, spends its money in the treasury for some worthwhile project each year. New furniture for the girls' day student lounge, a scholarship for a deserving student, and contributions for the Alumni Gymnasium are a few of the projects undertaken. In addition the organization usually has a picnic for its members and guests in the spring.

A "roomed" sign on one door, a radio blaring rock-and-roll from another, sorority sisters and neighbors piled around the room in all the spaces not occupied by a pile of books or strewn with clothes—we hop over wet sweaters spread to dry on the floor to plug in the corn popper. The girls in the room overhead are practicing a waltz; the girls next door are banging on the wall in a demand for some quietness. In these surroundings we study, gab, joke, play cards, and live our lives. And in these surroundings we learn some of our most important lessons—toleration, co-operation, sharing, the integration of our personalities into that of the group.

Dormitory life is perhaps one of the most valuable facets of the college educational process. Helping us and guiding us in our adjustment to the dormitory environment are Mrs. Perry and the capable, sympathetic members of the dormitory council.

I am a room in McCulloch Hall. I see much of the life of the boy who lives in me. Both his sorrows and his joys are shared within my four walls. I see him studying until 3 o'clock the night before a history test . . . sleeping through his early 8:20 . . . playing cards with a frat brother late into the night . . . flooding me with water . . . squirting shaving cream on the mirror . . . coming in starry-eyed after a date . . . sleeping peacefully . . . writing home . . . being called down for making too much noise . . . playing his new hi fi full blast. . . .

Many times I feel as if I can stand no more but I know as I see him mature, as he takes on responsibilities, as he becomes an independent and capable college student that I cannot let him down. I must give him the lonely place that he needs or the lively place for the gang to gather and I am glad that I can be a part of him.

Scholastic Honor Society

To stimulate the love of learning and to recognize and encourage scholarship, the Scholastic Honor Society was inaugurated in 1957. Membership in the Scholastic Honor Society is one of the greatest honors bestowed upon a student. For election as a junior, the candidate must have completed 75 semester hours of regular college work with a quality point ratio of 2.75. The minimum ratio for election as a senior is 2.25. Membership in this Society consists of students, honorary and associate members.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE, 1958—This spring, volume 32 of the Hi-Po closed its covers on an eventful year. It was the year of Sputnik, Muttnik, space-age, and Asian-Flu.

Many of the events of our time were chronicled by the sagacious Gerald Fitzpatrick and Patric Fitzgerald who pondered world problems with Charlie Johnson over bookstore coffee.

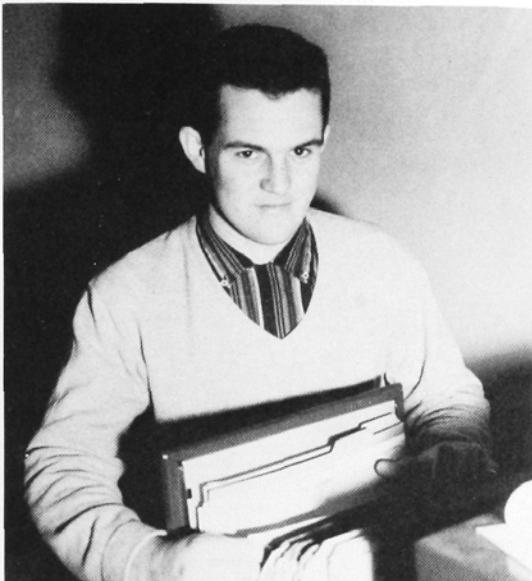

It was the year that Wen put the world in a nutshell, Barber contributed various features and paraded his "belles" across page six, and the Panther returned for a brief sojourn.

In scanning the pages of volume 32, we hope that we have added something to the history of the Hi-Po and that volume 33 will witness an even better year.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE, 1958—Through the efforts of Gene Simpson, Hi-Po Business and Advertising Manager, everyone at HPC knows that Viceroy has 20,000 filter traps, and anytime is a good time for Coke.

Although the Hi-Po is financed in part by student-activity fees, a certain amount of advertising is needed to cover the cost of each edition. It is the responsibility of the Business Manager and his staff to see that production costs are kept within the budget for each issue.

This year, like all years in the past, the business staff of the Hi-Po has strived to keep the paper in the black and leave ample funds for the next year.

If you are in choir, then you know what it is to experience the full, proud, wholesome feeling that comes when you stand shoulder to shoulder with rows of purple-robed fellow choirsters during a concert and feel the hot lights in your face. You know what it is to "break forth" into song and feel the "oneness" of the choir. It is then that you know what Mr. Cox means when he says, "There is something in art that speaks to a part of us. It says something that nothing else says. It puts the element of beauty into life."

A Cappella Choir

"There is a Balm . . . ! page two . . . third score . . . sing!"

"Hap-py birth-day to you, Hap-py . . . "

The earnest expectation on the face of the choir director melts into a look of pretended consternation as his upraised arms fall helplessly to his sides; then a mischievous grin sneaks through as he balances himself from one foot to the other.

The seventy-odd voices add a resonant "A-men" to the traditional melody. (Mr. Cox has more birthdays in a single year than anyone else.)

Valiantly he again lifts his arms and patiently repeats: "page two . . . third score . . . last measure with pickup." This time the multitude of voices 'break forth' and choir is again in rehearsal.

"Some of the basses are moving too soon . . . wait for my cue!"

"Tenors at D . . . tenors at D . . . now, sing!"

"Let's look at 'All We Like Sheep . . .' in which we go astray; the sopranos go up while the tenors go down . . . and so forth . . ."

"Now this line has a lot of surprises in it, and you'll be even more surprised when you get it right."

Yes, these cues may seem incomprehensible . . . humorous . . . but they will push the stray notes back into their places in the melody and send them on their way toward helping to mold a seemingly diverse multitude of separate sounds into a living work of art.

The Concert Band helps to increase musical enjoyment and understanding among its members and among its audiences by studying thoroughly and performing effectively the best band literature of all periods. Another contribution to student enjoyment is the band's appearance at pep assemblies and at home basketball games.

The band played a number of concerts both first and second semester for high school audiences as well as for audiences at the college. Student conductors appear on every program, and several student arrangements as well as original compositions have been given first performances.

The Tower Players is the name of the High Point College drama group. Each year three major productions and two minor productions are presented. Miss Jane DeSpain, head of the speech department, directed all of the major plays, which included "Anastasia," "Get Thee Behind Me," and "Room Service." "These Dog-gone Elections" was one of the minor productions, and Mr. Herman Coble, who joined the speech department this year, directed another minor play, "Helena's Husband."

"Get Thee Behind Me," an original musical, was written by Ronald Everett, Garland Young, Judy Wilson, and Dr. Lewis. This production was the second Annual Student-Faculty Review. The plot pended on the inheritance of $100,000 if Cass were married by his twenty-first birthday. The search for a wife takes place in New York, Jamaica, Paris, and Vienna. A North Carolina girl finally won his heart. However, the inheritance did not come through.

Music from "Damn Yankees," "My Fair Lady," popular calypso music, and an original score written by Dr. Lewis was featured. Faculty members participating were Mr. Cox, Mr. Porter, Miss Ethridge, and Miss Marge Case.

ANASTASIA

The auditorium is a scene of complete and absolute confusion. Rehearsals for Anastasia are in full swing. Hundreds of activities are going on at once . . . stage crews hammering, painting, shouting orders to each other, actors being cued and asking questions, excitement mounting to the heights on opening night. The curtain opens and the show is on! All too soon the show is over, the stage is crowded with well-wishers, and a feeling of accomplishment and self-satisfaction fills us as we realize the end of a successful performance.

The play is based on the life of a girl, lost in the depths of amnesia, who confided in a nurse in a mental hospital, claiming that she is actually the Grand Duchess Anastasia, daughter of the murdered Russian czar. An unscrupulous Russian general takes the girl under his wing and tries to pass her off as the lost duchess in order to gain her inheritance.

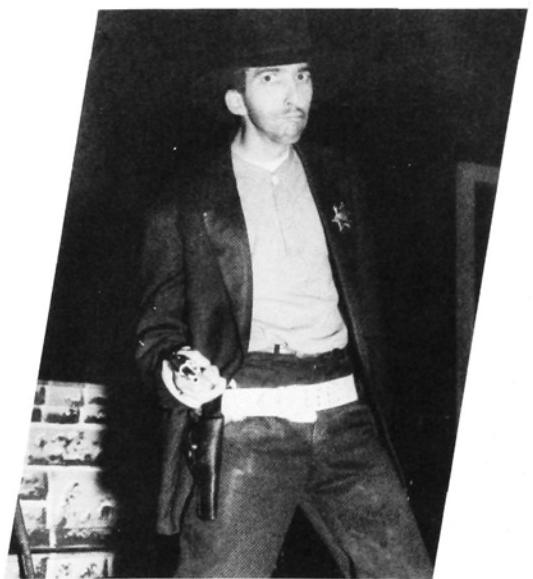

ROOM SERVICE

Where can I find one stuffed moose head and two stuffed owls? You don't mean they take off my clothes, do you? Am I nervous enough? Do I fall out of the bathroom right? Will there be enough clothes to get out of the closet? Is the typewriter on in this act? Is this make-up okay? How about this dress; is it the right color? These and many more questions were fired at Jane DeSpain, our director, during the production of "Room Service." This comedy received splendid reviews on Broadway and in High Point. The plot concerns a penniless theatrical producer whose attempts to raise sufficient backing to get his play onto a stage led him and his colleagues from one chuckle-provoking situation to another.

Involved in the comedy's whirling course are an apoplectic hotel executive, a case of ersatz measles, the pawning of the playwright's typewriter to raise money for the production, twenty-two unemployed actors taking up residence in a hotel ballroom, and a phony suicide as a climax to the hysterical festivities.

THESE DOG-GONE ELECTIONS

The hilarious one-act comedy, "These Dog-gone Elections," was well-received by the High Point College students. The main complication of the play involved the coming election. The father, a staunch Democrat, and the mother, a loyal Republican, each tried to win the election by bribing their idiot son into voting for their candidate. The comedy was directed by Miss Jane DeSpain.

HELENA'S HUSBAND

"Helena's Husband," a humorous satire on the story of Helen of Troy, was directed by Herman Coble, Jr. and was received with uproarious laughter by the delighted audience.

The purpose of the Panhellenic Council is to co-ordinate sorority affairs and to air any problems that cannot or should not be solved within the individual sorority. Panhellenic formulates the rules which govern rushing and supervises the general rush program. Our main object is to foster friendly relations among the four sororities and to encourage co-operation instead of competition.

There are four sororities at High Point, and Panhellenic is composed of two sisters from each group and an advisor. The tea, which is held each fall for those girls interested in rush, is a project of the Panhellenic. Rushing, shaking hands, pledging, and initiation are the outward and visible signs of the inward working of this group.

The purpose of the tea, which is held each fall in the Student Center and is sponsored by the Panhellenic Council, is to acquaint the prospective rushees with members of the sororities. This is the official opening of Greek Week.

The Interfraternity Council is the co-ordinator of the social fraternities on campus—its main objective is to further by unification and high ideals the standards of brotherhood, character, and scholarship necessary to any worthy fraternity.

This year the IFC continued its practice of setting up the rules and regulations for rushing members for the fraternity, sponsoring the Annual Christmas Dance, which is open to the entire student body of High Point College, and the annual Spring Dance for fraternity men and their dates.

The Interfraternity Council is an organization composed of two representatives from each fraternity. It was founded to govern all fraternities, to study their problems, and to promote co-operation and friendship among its components. Not only does this friendship last throughout college life and with friends made on campus, but will extend far into the future.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Zeta Tau Alpha, international fraternity, added the 100th link to its chain of chapters when Delta Gamma was installed at High Point College in the spring of 1957. Seventeen members of Lambda Alpha Phi Sorority, High Point's only remaining local sorority, pledged to Zeta on May 17. Then followed a period of intensive training in the history, ideals, and purposes of the fraternity, a period of pledge projects, reports, and tests, highlighted by the Silver Link Banquet, the reception, and finally the cherished goal, initiation on May 10.

The purpose of Zeta Tau Alpha as stated in the charter granted by the Virginia State Legislature, is "to intensify friendships, foster a spirit of love, create such sentiments, perform such deeds, and mold such opinions as will conduce to the building up of a purer and nobler womanhood in the world." Founded at Longwood College in Farmville, Va. on October 15, 1898, the fraternity now has some 225 alumnae groups and some 31,000 members. Its service project is the treatment and training of cerebral palsied children, and it also maintains a wide program of scholarships and scholarship loan funds for both Zetas and non-Zetas.

Mrs. Chapman, Zeta national president, was among those greeting guests at the reception.

Pat Mize proudly displayed gifts and messages received by the new chapter during installation.

Five of the new pledges gather in a club-room to discuss points, pledge projects, parties.

Zeta's first year on the High Point College campus was compounded of all the delightful experiences which spell sisterhood: business meetings, planning committees, rush parties, tender rituals, new pledges, stronger friendships with the sisters, the "Hernando's Hideaway" Dance, house parties, birthday celebrations, the White Violet Ball, pizza parties, the 100th Link Banquet, a week-end at the beach. These things formed our fellowship this year, our memories for many years to come.

At "Hernando's Hideaway" chaperone Dr. Wood poured the "wine"—composed of ginger ale and cake coloring.

Delta Sigma Phi

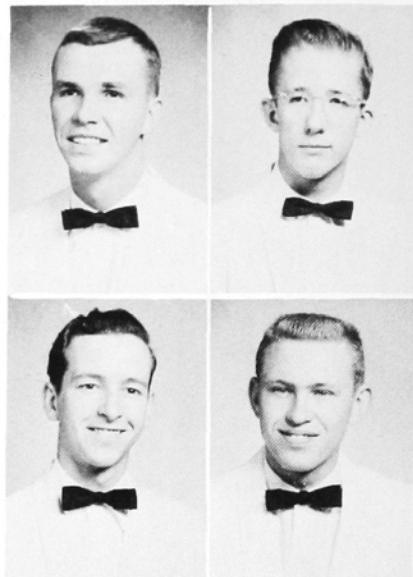

Delta Sig believes that leaders are made . . . not born. We believe that every college man has leadership potential, and that this potential can be developed. Leadership ability is to us one of the most valuable assets that can be attained while in college, and is an asset in finding vocational success.

Pledge training in Delta Sigma Phi includes Engineered Leadership. By helping the chapter grow, the pledge grows and gains experience that is priceless.

He begins to learn the meaning of "Delta Sig" . . . a man who loves his fraternity and what it stands for. He learns to make personal sacrifices for his fraternity without expecting praise or adulation. He learns to respect others, and puts the interest of the group above his own selfish interests. He becomes interested in improving his scholarship; in developing his personality, and in making a leader of himself. He begins to realize the help his fraternity will give him in later life, and he takes advantage of the experience it offers him.

Leadership . . . Scholarship . . . Personality Development . . . Social Improvement . . . Lasting Friendships . . . Development of Talents . . . These are the characteristics of a Delta Sig.

In 1889, in New York, at the College of the City of New York, Delta Sigma Phi was founded. Since then Delta Sigs have become known on campuses all over the nation and Canada.

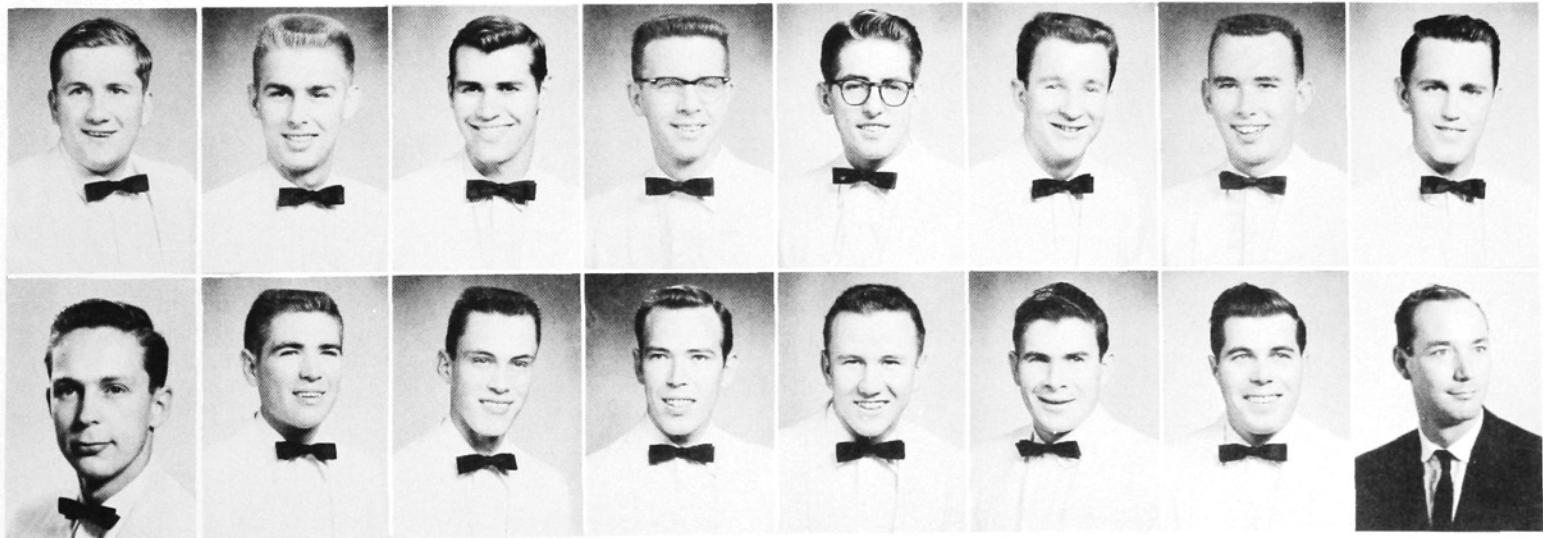

In the fall of 1956, the NDM Club at High Point became a colony of Delta Sigma Phi and in the following spring, we were initiated into Delta Sigdom and received our chapter charter. Since becoming a national fraternity, the true spirit of brotherhood has been made a reality, sharing our experiences together and helping each other out.

1957-58 will always stand out as being a highly active year for us . . . the national convention in St. Louis . . . having a 'ball' at Kyle's wedding in Charlotte . . . C. W. returns for his last year with a wedding ring . . . Frank Collins' engagement . . . greeting all the brothers during orientation . . . giving the new crop the 'once-over' . . . some started studying . . . parties at the Marietta Club . . . Dr. Boyer and Mr. Porter join our ranks as faculty advisors . . . C. W. and Charlie Huff got theirs—it was cold when they were initiated . . . Don Frye reigns over I. F. C. . . . Rush stag party—Wow! . . . 'Roaring Twenties' party for the rushees and their dates . . . Great pledge class inducted . . . That Sunday down at High Rock Lake . . . Kyle and C. W. make "Who's Who" . . . Carnation Ball in Winston . . . painting the "Fraternity Rock" . . . J. V. Roberson gave his girl a diamond for Christmas . . . Don Frye tied the knot in April . . . pledges initiated in February—get their pins . . . more parties in the spring . . . the Sailor's Ball 'blast' at the beach in S. C. . . . five brothers graduate—Good Luck! . . . we make plans for next fall . . .

A year to be remembered and cherished by us. May this be just the first of many enjoyable years in Delta Sigdom.

Dear Zenith Readers,

We just thought we would drop a line and tell you about our great year of 1957-58. During the summer Brothers Simpson and Parker got married. As usual we started the year off with a blast, our annual steak fry, at the country home of one of our prominent alumni. Then we settled down, and after much hard work and preparation, we produced the best Clown-Faculty Charity Basketball Game in the history of our Lambda Chi Alpha chapter. As it usually happens every year, wedding bells tolled for one of our brothers, Bobby Gandy. The efficient, well oiled football machine of Lambda Chi was once more first place in the intra-mural league. Murphy Osborne and Bob Dabbs had babies or at least their wives did. Wham-Bam rush week, twenty-nine good men pledged. Another big Christmas party with our sister sorority, the Phi Mu's. Surprise, surprise, Randy has done and got hitched. Christmas goodbyes were celebrated at a stag party at the Jamestown Legion Hut . . . Can anyone remember how the festivities came off. Santa Claus was good to three lucky girls by giving them the pins of Charles Dyson, Paul Jones, and C. B. Crook. Again defeating the theory that parties make the grades go down, we were tops on campus in scholarship. We again held our annual pledge initiation ball at the Lexington Country Club. We gain recognition on campus.

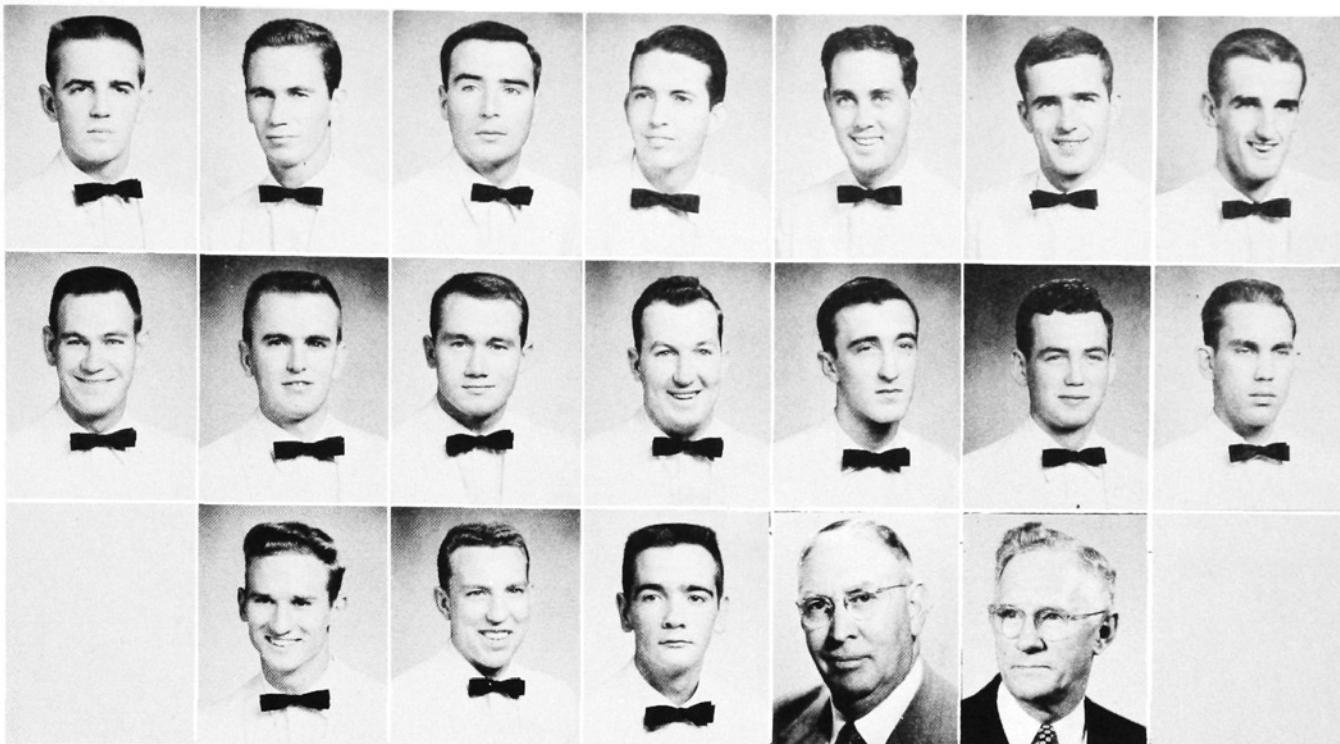

- 1) The Student Government All Sports Award.
- 2) Flynt makes Who's Who.
- 3) Dale Brown President of the Freshman Class.
- 4) Charles Watson and Paul Jones on the Dormitory Council.
- 5) Charles Dyson President of Junior Class.
- 6) Randy and C. B. "top dogs" in the F. B. L. A.

Wicker, Place, and Flynt only seniors who are not married or pinned. "Keep up the good work boys."

We shook the dust from our shoes making trips to Susquehanna University, the National Training Seminar at Ball State Teachers College and the Colonial conclave at Washington and Lee University. Everyone goes to the beach and then comes the White Rose Formal. Wicker plays tennis, Jones and Brown play baseball. So ends another splendid year for Lambda Chi.

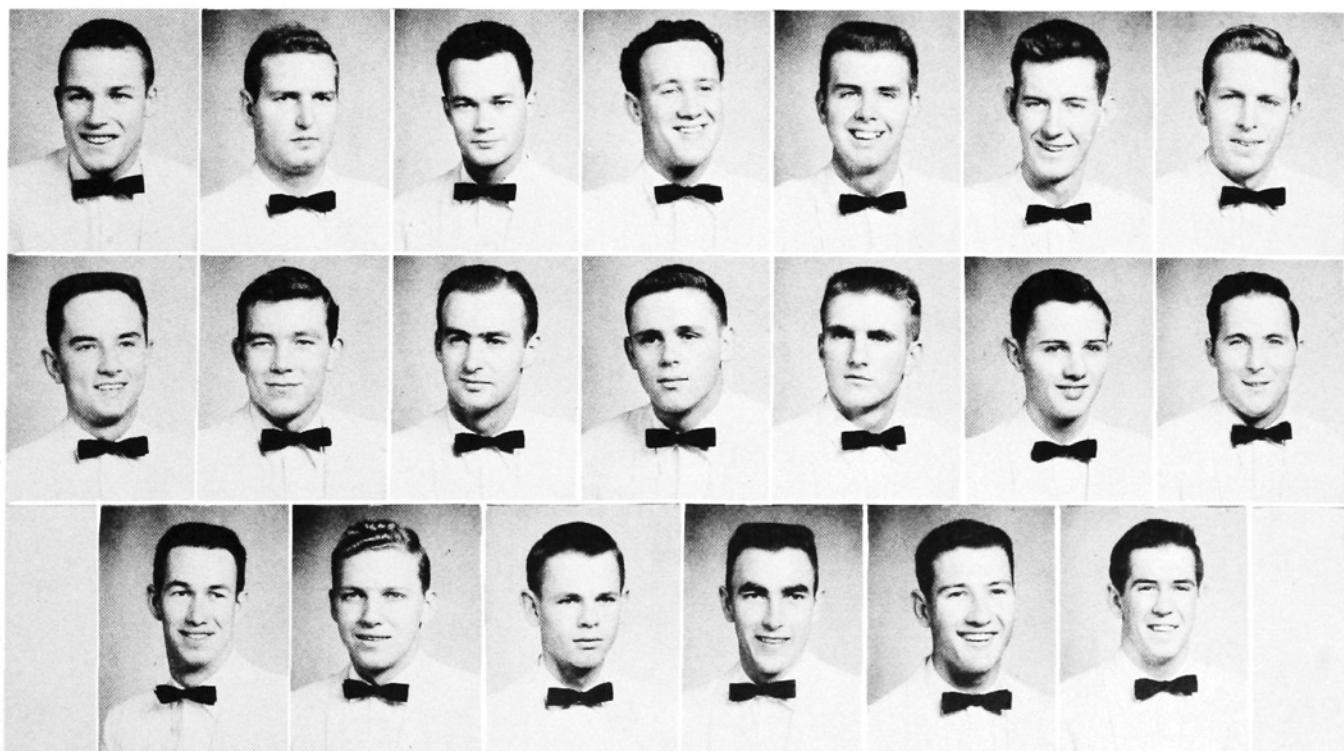

Sincerely yours,
Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity

The remarkably improved 1958 Physical Education Department reveals the imprint of not only an ultramodern gymnasium but the personality of a new department head—Dr. Jack R. Netcher. Receiving his B.S. from Carson-Newman College, his M.S. from the University of Tennessee, and his Ph.D. from Indiana University, Dr. Netcher has done much to accelerate the growth of the Physical Education Department of High Point College.

Rounding out the Athletic and Physical Education Department are Miss Natalie Etheridge, Mr. Virgil Yow, and Dr. Walton Hertz.

BEHIND THE WINNING TEAM

Coach Virgil Yow has played a major part in the excellent season the Panthers have enjoyed. He has worked unceasingly to build and improve the team. Experience, leadership, co-operation, and great hope for the conference title—these are the aspirations and qualities possessed by the Panther's coach.

The Panthers are also backed by the fine school spirit displayed by the entire student body, who show great loyalty and enthusiasm for their team not only at home but in games at other colleges. The cheerleaders mold the enthusiasm of the crowd and direct its energy into vigorous yells of pride and appreciation.

The Varsity

. . . speed. . . accuracy. . . reserve strength

The Purple Panthers made "no beans" about the fact that they were out to be main contender in the race for the North State Championship. Out of the first twelve starts the Panthers dropped only one game.

Bill Huegele and Danny Sewell have helped the team tremendously with their rebounding and shooting ability. Sewell is a sure bet to make all-conference due to his fine play throughout the season. An injured leg slowed him down a little toward the end of the season, but he was still, by far, the best center in the conference.

It is not hard for anyone to recognize the ability of Bobby Pharr on the hardwood. He is a true "ball-hawk" in every sense of the word. Several opposing coaches have said many fine words of praise for this young fellow from Statesville.

Little Maury Beauchot proved to be indispensable to the team with his scoring ability and scrappy defense. Another boy from Indiana made fans stand up and take notice because of the hustle and spirit. This young man is Jack Short. He is certain to help High Point in the future.

Bobby Dunbar, a reserve, turned in several fine performances during the conference season. Bob is known around the conference for his scrap and "never say die" attitude.

Recognition is to be given to Steve Afendis for his advancement over last season. Last year he was a reserve but this year he has developed into a fine cager for the High Point five.

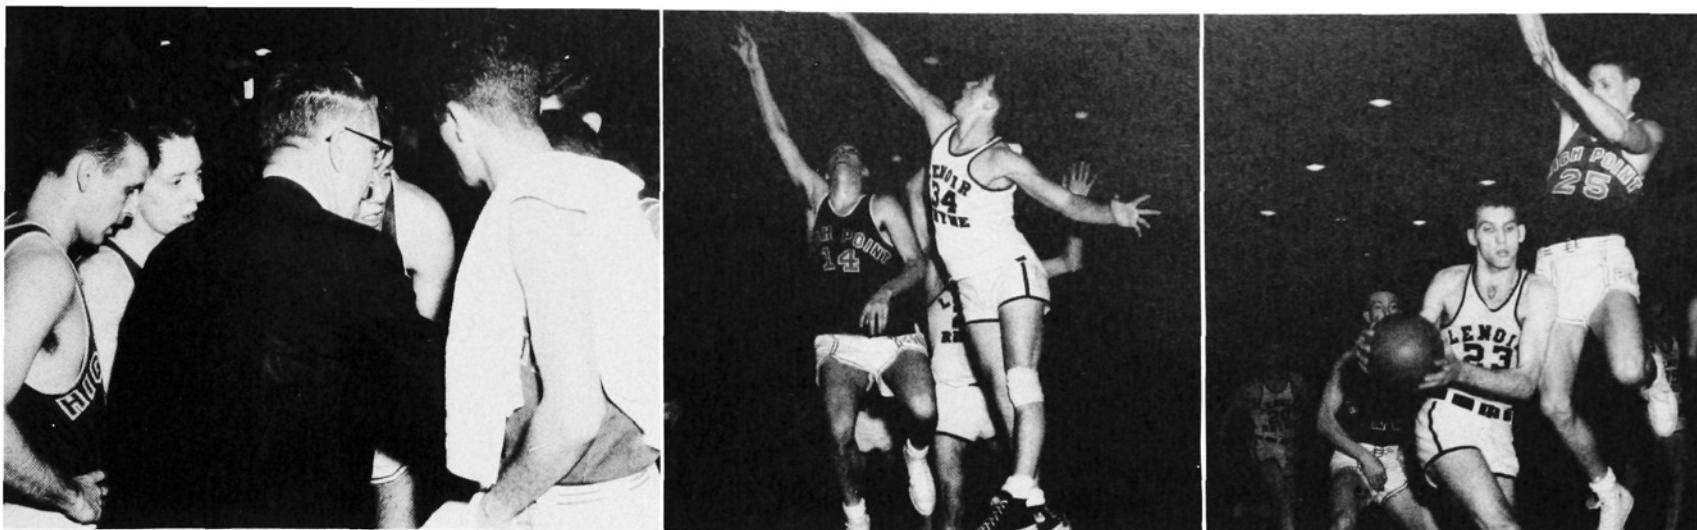

Such boys as Phil Crockett, Ken Williams, Slick Sykes, and Ken Black have given Coach Yow an abundance of reserve strength.

This year's team is certainly one of the finest ever to wear the purple and white for High Point College. Credit should be given to the team and coaches for their hard work throughout the season.

The students congratulate the team and coaches on their success during the past season. Thanks "gang" for a fine year of basketball at H. P. C.

Strategy and Team Work make for 1st half lead . . . But the Bears go ahead.

FLASH! HIGH POINT PANTHERS WIN SECOND PLACE IN NORTH STATE CONFERENCE TOURNAMENT

The High Point Purple Panthers without the aid of their two stars, Danny Sewell and Bill Huegele played tremendous basketball in the 1958 North State Conference Tournament. Sewell, member of the all district team and also voted most valuable player in the district, suffered from a knee injury received in the Belmont Abbey game and Huegele, another member of the all district team, sprained his ankle in the first game of the tournament.

High Point took the measure of Atlantic Christian in the first game by the score of 85-77. All of the starting five played fine ball in this game and the points were pretty well disbursed. Steve Afendis led the team in rebounds.

In the second game the Panthers surprised everyone in the tournament by upsetting highly rated East Carolina College. Trailing by as much as eleven points in the first half the High Pointers put on a splurge at the beginning of the second half and finally pulled into the lead with 10 minutes to go. Bobby Pharr and Maury Beauchot played brilliantly and led the team in defense and scoring. The high spot came when East Carolina's Coach Howard Porter handed over his red vest to Coach Virgil Yow.

In the final game the Panthers could not cope with the height and speed of the Lenoir Rhyne club. High Point, after playing two hard games and lacking reserves, just could not stay with the Bears in the second half.

Everyone at the tournament thought that High Point played as well as it possibly could have considering the conditions that prevailed. They played their hearts out and if they could have gotten a few breaks in the final game they might have emerged the victor.

High Point's cheering section followed and seemed to be one of the noisiest to be found in the nation. Coach Yow, the team, and the students joined together to make the 1958 North State Tournament one to be remembered by High Point College.

A lot of Spirit . . . and Consternation . . . and Sadness, 15 Points Short of a Title.

Homecoming

High Point College Homecoming . . . 1958 . . . the day when prodigal alumni come home to H. P. C. for a taste of the fatted calf. The grounds are filled with their personality and the halls echo their talk . . . "Don't tell me you have a daughter in school here now! I hope she doesn't get into as much trouble as we used to!" "Remember the time the snow came up to the top of the window at Woman's Hall?" "What about the cow in the auditorium, Jim?" "Was that in '29 or '30? Anyway, there we were . . . hadn't opened a book in three weeks . . ." and you realize that it was the same old institution then as now.

The day started with visits in the dormitories, classrooms, and bookstore where many old friends related events of past years. Dr. and Mrs. Cooke entertained from 3:30 to 5:00 with an open house.

Now the time had come to cheer the team to another victory. "Fight, Panthers, Fight!" yelled the crowd consisting of alumni, students, and friends as they sat in Alumni Gymnasium watching the High Point-Catawba basketball game.

Eleven attractive girls sat around the gymnasium waiting until the half to end so the Homecoming Queen for 1958 would be announced. These girls had been selected by the basketball team and were voted upon by the student body. To them, the first half seemed as if it would never pass while at the same time, the alumni had just stopped chatting and had settled down to watch the ball game.

MISS DELE LEE of Lawndale, North Carolina, was announced HOMECOMING QUEEN. She was sponsored by BILL HUEGELE, Captain of the High Point College Purple Panthers.

Coach Yow and the Panthers gave the crowd a thrilling performance as they ended the game with the score High Point 96—Catawba 95.

After the ball game more memories were reminisced at the Alumni-Student Dance in Harrison Hall where MISS DELE LEE reigned as HOMECOMING QUEEN of 1958.

CONTESTANTS FOR HOMECOMING QUEEN

This year the Junior Varsity had a very brilliant offensive as well as a strong defensive. Under the leadership of their able coach, Mr. Hartman, the Baby Panthers completed a satisfactory season. Leading the team through the season with his guarding and effective shooting was Jackie Short. Another able man with a keen eye for the basket was Larry Swiggett. Jim Parrish and Thomas Skidmore controlled the rebounding action. Willard Formyduval and Larry Moore contributed to the backcourt play and defense of the team. The improvement of skills and techniques in basketball makes these boys good material for next year's varsity.

Murphy Osborne, president, and Luke Livingston, vice-president, talk over plans at the Concession Stand in Alumni Gymnasium.

The newly organized Physical Education Majors Club has come into its own this year on High Point College campus. Under the leadership of our capable Physical Education Department, we are furthering interest in physical education as an occupation. We have had charge of the concession stand and the selling of programs during basketball games as our major money-making project. Plans are being made to remodel the second floor of the Field House as a club-room for our members. Although we are one of the youngest organizations on campus, we have promising plans for the future.

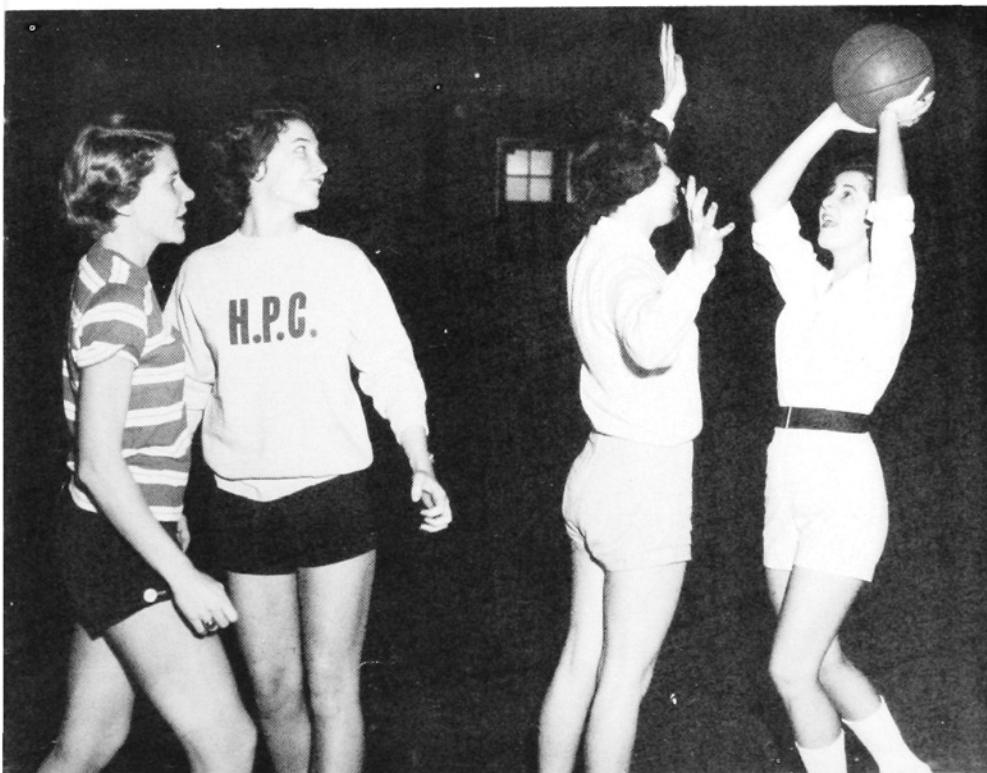

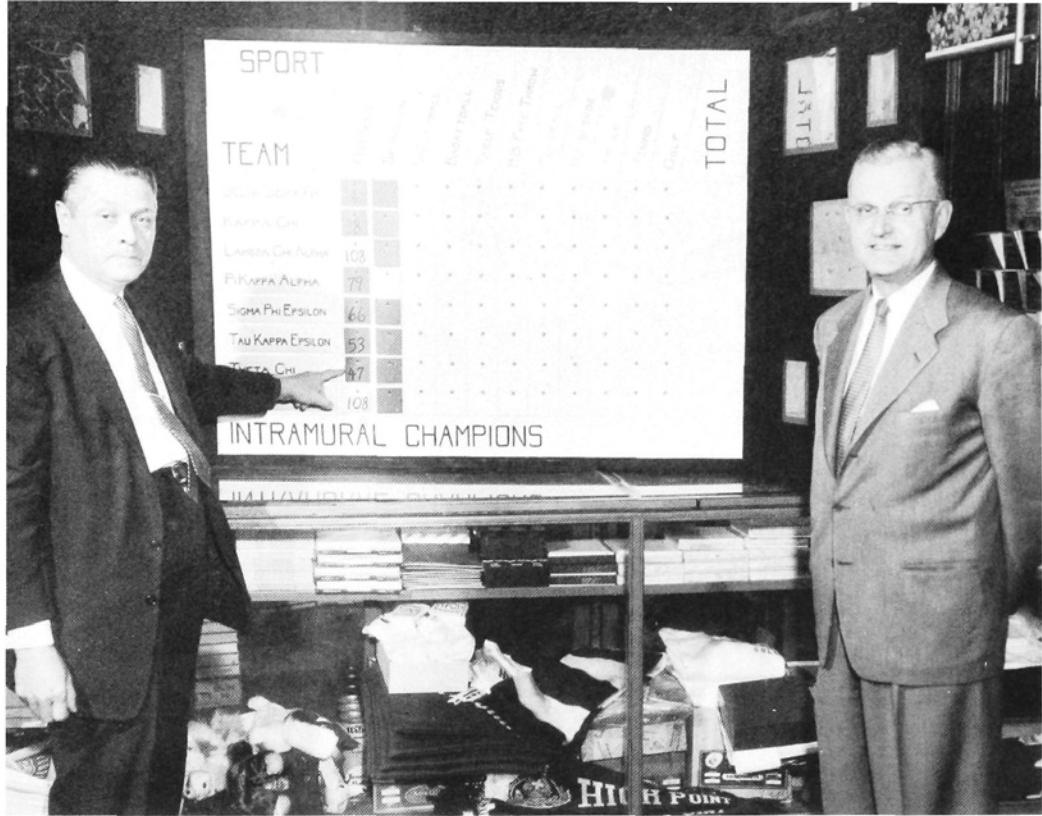

"Let's go play volleyball!" . . . "How many games do we play tonight?" . . . "Those 2-D's are rough!" . . . "The Phi Mu team beat them last year." . . . "Did you see Ann Sherrill play her final badminton game?" . . . "Me? Play basketball? Are you crazy? . . . Softball, now that's my game!" . . . "I'm glad the boys aren't watching us as much as they did last year." . . . "Horseshoes? You mean those things horses wear?" . . . "Has anyone seen my tennis shoes?"

These were a few of the remarks one heard as he passed through the clubroom of the girls dorm on a Wednesday evening. The four sororities, Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha, plus the 2-D team composed of day and dorm students, were on their way to the gymnasium for their intramurals.

The 1957-58 badminton champ was Ann Sherrill from the Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. Volleyball was entered with more interest and the mighty 2-D team walked off with the honors.

On through the winter with basketball and into the spring with softball, track, and horseshoes, the five teams participated and enjoyed the 1957-58 Women's Intramurals.

Mr. Coble and Dr. Cooke accept the new Intramural Scoreboard for the bookstore.

DR. GIL HERTZ

1958 All-Stars

High Point College has long taken great pride in its intramural program, and this is one year that certainly deserves all the praise given. The teams have been fairly evenly matched with no one dominating any sport. This has made the long fight for the All-sports trophy a dog-fight that shows promise of going all the way to the end.

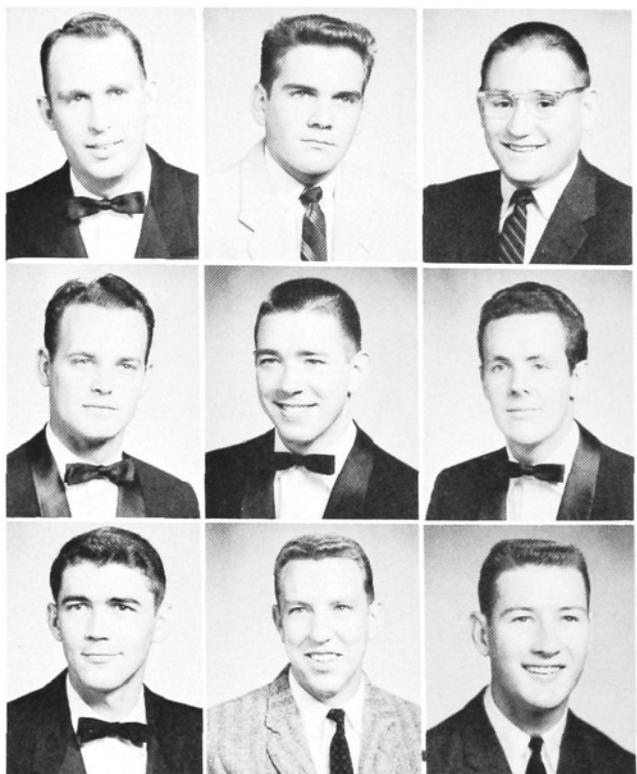

Lambda Chi Alpha, with the good throwing arm of Murphy Osborne, tied with the strongest independent team, Bulldogs, for the first place points in football. The Bulldogs were piloted by the very talented Bill Beasley.

Pi Kappa Alpha, with the fine balance all their teams have shown, won first place points in volleyball.

Basketball, which is probably the most popular of intramural sports, ended with Tau Kappa Epsilon and Pi Kappa Alpha sharing the lead. Lambda Chi was a close third. An all-star team composed of the outstanding players of the intramural basketball season represented High Point in the annual North State Extramural Basketball Tournament. High Point beat a determined Lenoir Rhyne representative in the finals.

Softball is just around the corner and it looks as if Pi Kappa Alpha will be the team to beat. They have two fine front line pitchers in Swaringen and Crockett, who also swings the most potent bat in the league.

The minor sports: badminton, horseshoes, basketball free-throw, ping-pong, golf, and tennis are new in the intramural program, but could well be the deciding factor in determining the winner of the All Sports Trophy.

Second row: John Lewis, Murphy Osborne, Dale Swaringen.

Dr. Hertz and Dick Wilson put the finishing touches on the shuffleboard court.

Baseball

The 1957 season proved to be discouraging to High Point baseball fans. After an opening victory against North State Champions Elon, the Panthers fell by the wayside, struggling to a season which saw the Panthers win only four games in twelve starts. The High Point team was much better than the record showed, losing several games by one or two runs. Bob Gurley and Bob Pharr did most of the pitching for the team, along with some relief from Bill Huegele, who also spent some time in the outfield.

Paul Jones, a transfer student from Louisburg Junior College, led the team in hitting in his first year with the Panthers. All-Conference Bill Beasley and Harold Watson also provided much hitting power for High Point.

If Gurley, Pharr, and Huegele can come through on the mound and get a little hitting from Jones and Watson, the team should be much improved. With the returning lettermen, the Panthers should do much better during the 1958 season.

1957 TENNIS CHAMPIONS

The High Point College tennis team, North State Conference Champions for the past nine out of ten years, is ready to defend its title as soon as tennis weather rolls around. Since the team has four lettermen returning, it seems as though another bright season is ahead for the "baseline wizards."

After dropping two conference matches near the first of last season the High Point Netters won their next ten conference matches to end the season with a very respectable 10-2 conference record.

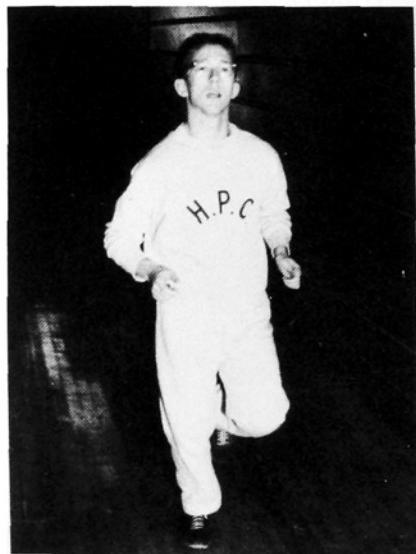

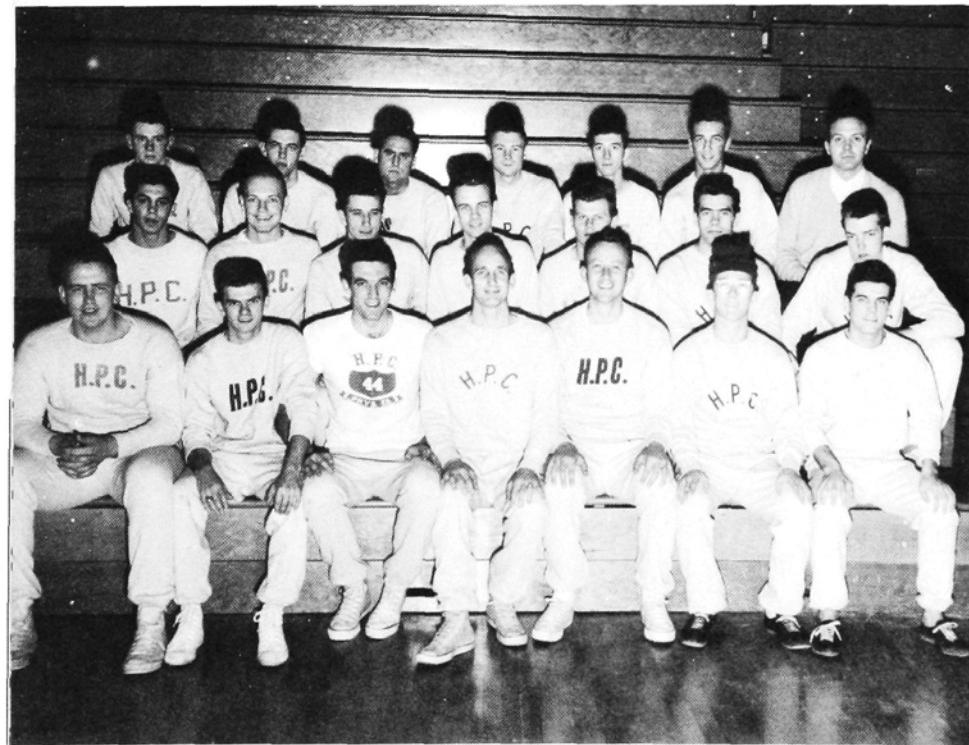

Bill Huegele, the nucleus of last year's championship team, will probably be back in the number one position. Ray Wicker and Kenneth Paxton, last year's number three and four men are also back and showing much improvement over last season. Also back after a season off will be letterman Dale Swaringen. The coach this year will be Mr. Chuck Hartman, from Gastonia, N. C., who replaces Mr. Jack Kidd. Mr. Hartman is looking forward to a very successful season.

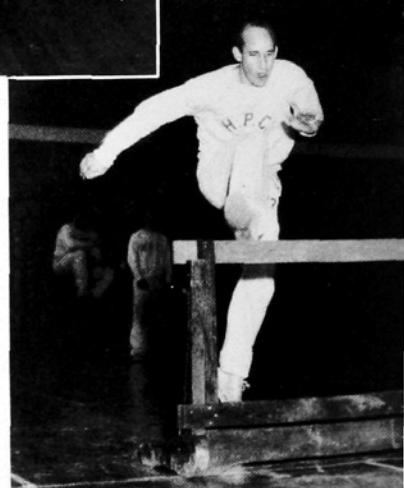

Golf

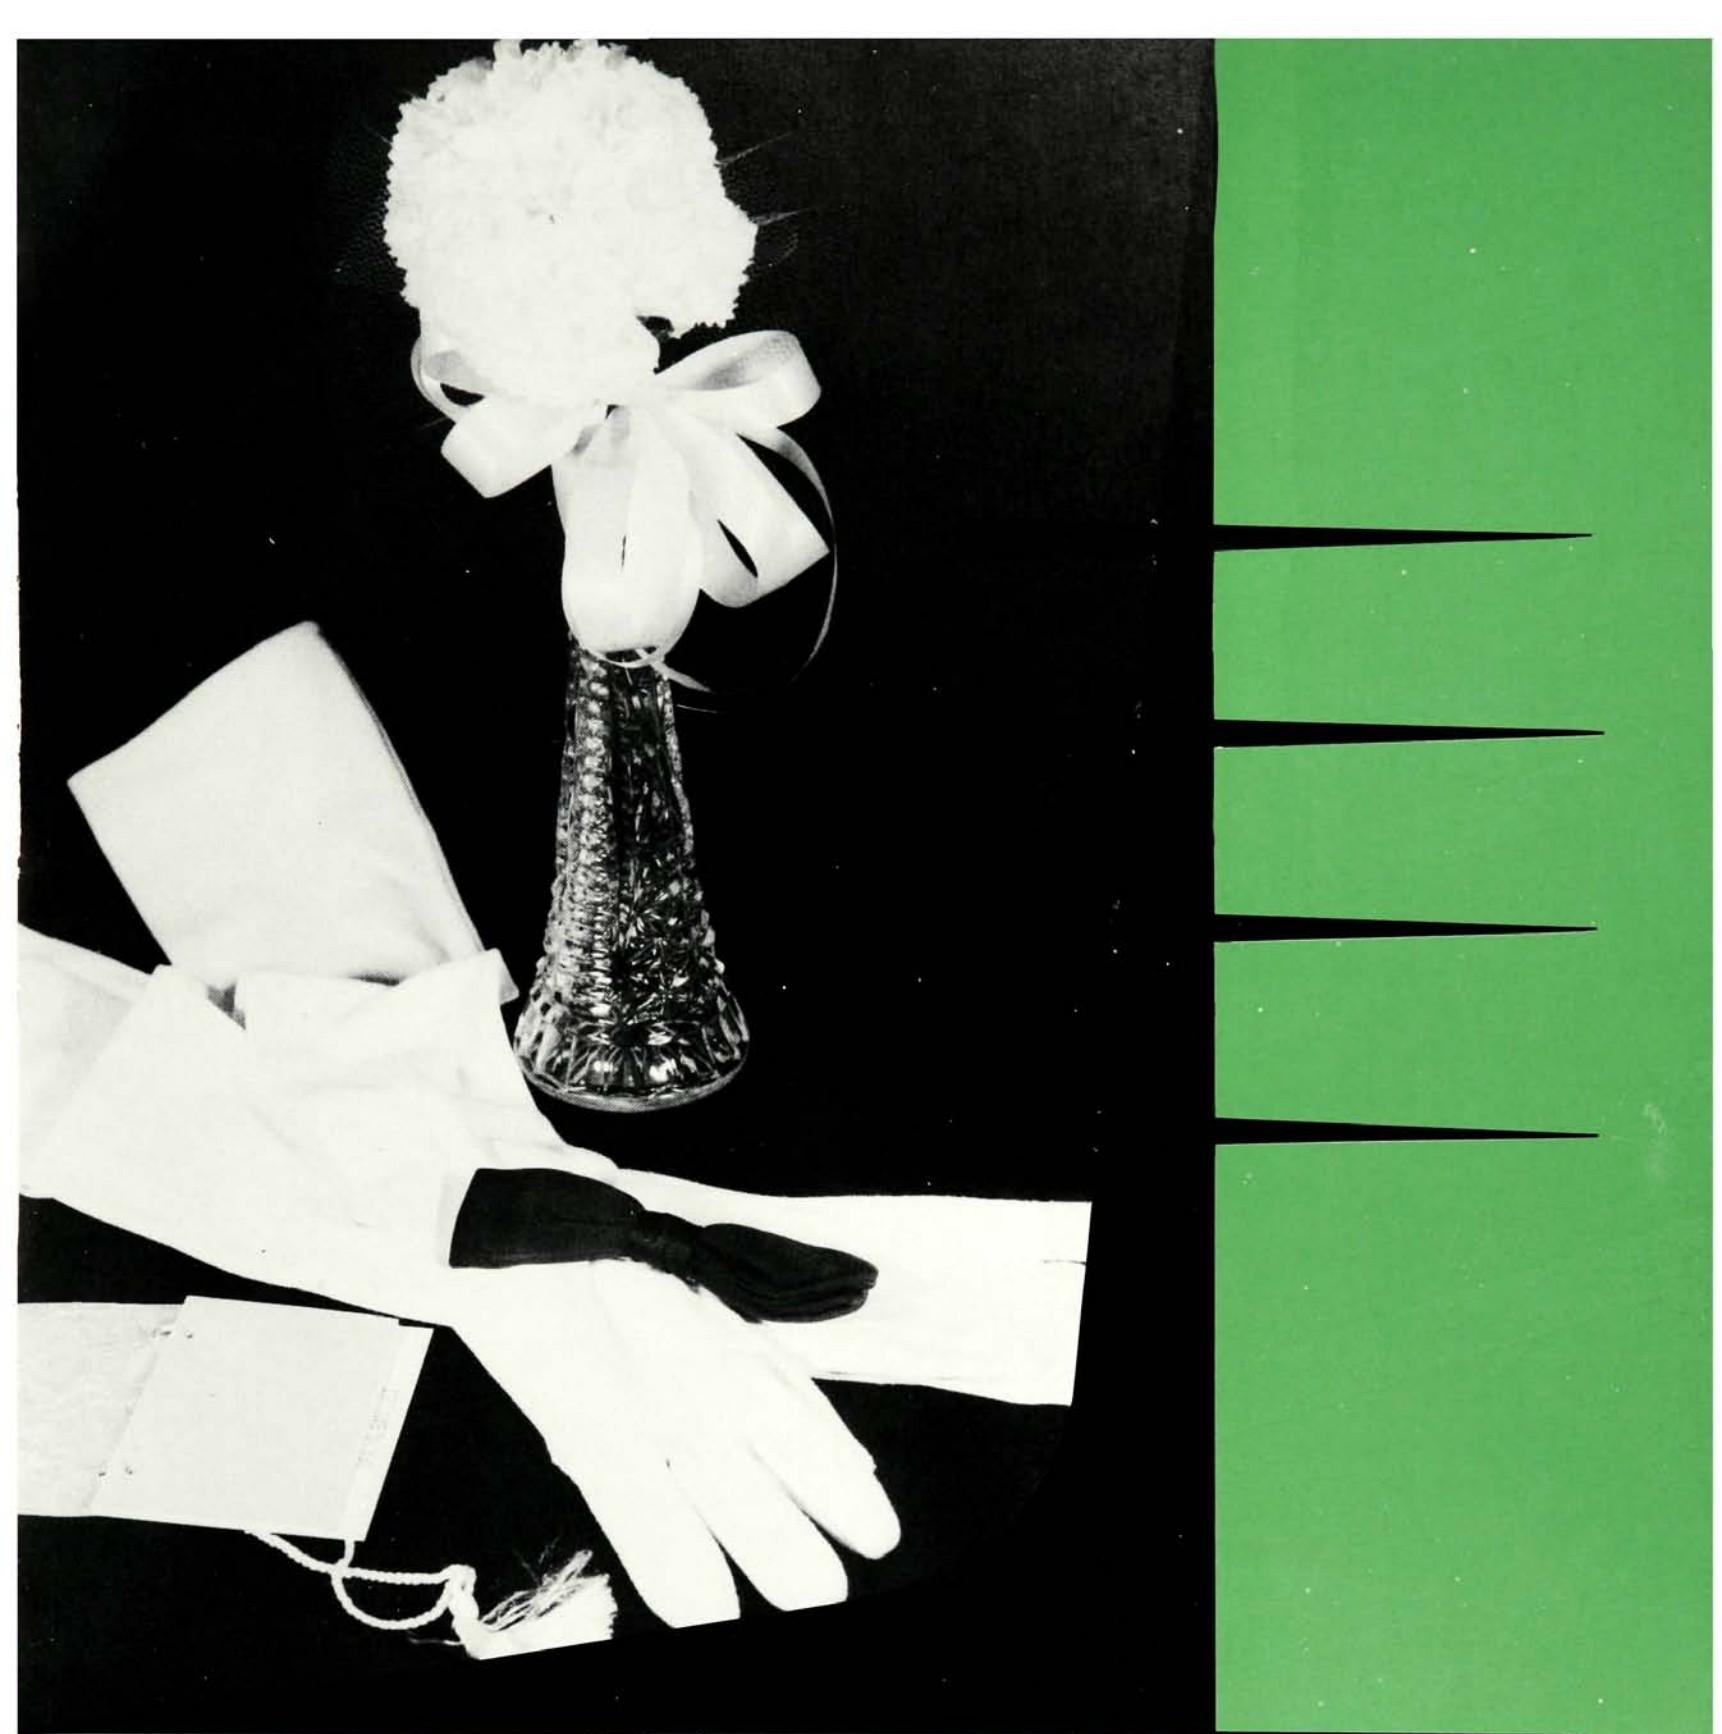

Golf, continuing to increase in prestige, has become an integral part of the intercollegiate program at High Point College. The "link" men lost many fine golfers this season but the vacant slots were quickly filled by other enthusiasts.

TRACK

Miss High Point College

THE ZENITH STAFF Presents "DECEMBER GIRL"

Calm, poised, and graceful, pretty Miss Dele Lee stood smiling as she was crowned Miss High Point College of 1958. She, along with nine other attractive young ladies, delighted the audience with music, pantomime, drawing, and an array of feminine beauty. Each girl represented the first ten months in the calendar year, and the five finalists, Sylvia Holt, Dele Lee, Wini Stuart, Ann Williams Thornton, and Shirley Yokley, represented the month of November. The queen, chosen from the five finalists, was our "December Girl."

Each of the girls had been selected from the various clubs and organizations on the campus. They were judged according to their beauty, personality, and talent. Miss Kathleen Henson, Miss High Point College of 1957, crowned Miss Lee, who sponsored the Sophomore Class.

Entertainment for the program was provided by Glenn Lloyd and his "Symphonic Eight minus Five," along with the singing of a small, mixed ensemble from the choir under the direction of Mr. Richard Cox and accompanied by Miss Sylvia Newton.

The Miss High Point College contest is sponsored annually by the ZENITH Staff. The program was planned and directed by Charlie Holcombe, Judy Wilson, Jean Ridge, and Mickey Dean.
